DR. S. RANGASWAMI IYENGA

"DIABETES SPECIALIST."

RARE AND INVALUABLE SPECIFIC FOR THE CURE OF "DIABETES."

After a short visit to the Madras Presidency on professional work Dr. S. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR, the well-known Diabetes Specialist has RETURNED TO BOMBAY and will be glad to treat "DIABETES" suffering patients.

During the short stay he has made here before he has treated and has completely cured many persons of whom the following are a few:—

KANYALAL BADRIDAS, a Cotton Merchant, Bombay writes:—

"It gives me great pleasure in testifying to the real efficacy of Dr. S. R. Iyengar's medicinal drugs. I was suffering from "Diabetes" for the last 12 years—Commenced Dr. Iyengar's treatment—my urine was examined by the Bombay Municipal Analyst the Sp. Gravity was 1035 and sugar 5-62 per cent. After treatment, the examination of the same Municipal Analyst; and Dr. N. H. Clubwala M. D. B. Hy. (Bombay) at Dr. Masina Hospital Pathological Laboratory "Sugar was found nil" and Sp. Gravity 1012.

Mr. BHAILAL V. KHOTHARI, B.A., LL.B., Vakil, High Court, Bombay, writes:—

"It gives me great and sincere pleasure in testifying to the real efficacy of Dr. S. R. Iyengar's medical drugs. I was suffering from Diabetes for over 6 years and had tried many well-known doctors of Bombay but without any effect. I then put myself under the treatment of the said Doctor Iyengar and he prescribed a course of 7 complete weeks for me. As each week progressed the disease that could not at all be controlled before, began to abate with the result that I was completely cured at the end of the course, in such a marvellous way that I can very well say that Dr. Iyengar is not a diabetes specialist in name, but a specialist indeed in reality. My Sp. Gr. which was 1035 in the beginning of the course came down to 1015 at the end and grains of sugar per ounce of urine fell down from 24 to nil while motions were not at all visible.

ANTONIO MORENO

In a Brother's detective SMITH BRADY Serial

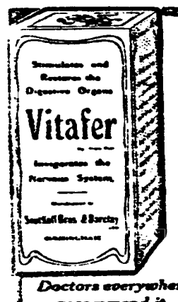
THE INVISIBLE HAND

This serial tells a story of a conflict between the secret service and a powerful combination of crooks who would wreck society—organised law battliug against organised crime. Every known device is employed in pursuit of crime and crine detection.

You cannot afford to miss this serial.

Four Shows daily at 5-15, 7, 8-45 and and 10-30.

Extra prize Matinees on Sat., Sun. and BANK-HOLIDAYS at 3-30 and 5-15 p. m.



Doctors everywhere recommend it.

Sufferers from Malaria

cannot be too careful in their diet. This is of the first importance, and it must especially contain those elements which are necessary for the building-up of red blood corpuscles and other vital cells and tissues.

Medical men all agree that Phosphorus in suitable form must be well represented in the diet of a malarial patient.

Vitafer

The Greatest of all Tonic Foods.

being rich in Phosphorus and other health-building properties is pre-eminently adapted to aid in the rapid recovery of malarial cases, as well as for all conditions of enfeebled health, mental and physical exhaustion, fever, dyspepsia, neurasthenia, etc.

The following Testimonial speaks for itself :—"I should like to offer my testimony to the efficacy of VITAFER. I had a most severe attack of Malaria contracted in India, lasting seven months, part of which time was spent in a nursing home in London. On resuming my convalescence I tried VITAFER with most gratifying results. I have regained my usual robust health, and as this was the only Tonic I took, my recovery can be attributed to it. Please make this known, whenever there are any sufferers from Malaria and its deleterious effects. To them it will prove a boon."

N.B.—The moderate price of VITAFER places it within the reach of all classes.

Sold by all Chemists in air-tight bottles of 4 oz., 8 oz. and 16 oz.

PIECE-GOODS.

The past weak has been an uneventful one for the Cloth market. On Monday and Thursday the markets were closed on account of Hindu holidays and on Wednesday the offices and Banks were closed. Nothing of special importance has occurred during the remaining days and the tone has been unchanged. Rupee rates have remained in favour of buyers. The demand has been rather disappointing and it seems that more attention is being devoted to politics rather than to business. Buying has been patchy and of a retail nature. Clearances have not been satisfactory and stocks have been accumulating.

Fresh business has been very difficult to negotiate, and as buyers and sellers are unable to bridge over the disparity between quotations and offers, attempts to effect sales have not met with success. Merchants are chary to commit themselves to forward transactions, as they have lost confidence in current rates, and the uncertainty regarding the future course of the rate of exchange coupled with the scarcity of money prompts them to exercise caution at every move. Several makers can still offer early delivery and although they are willing to sell at lower rates, still any price offered would not meet with acceptance. Some shippers as well as Importing Firms having burnt their fingers are so much afraid of the fire that they are remaining aloof for the present and have adopted a waiting policy, and would be too glad to get rid of their holdings with as little loss as possible. Cotton is steadily declining. American cotton for future delivery is nearly 11d. per lb., and Egyptian spot is about 32d. The rate of exchange shows no sign of stability and is fluctuating between 1/6 and 1/8.

It is interesting to note that the Amalgamated Cotton Mills Trust Ltd. which recently bought the concern of Messrs. Horrocks, Crewdson and Co., of Preston and employ about 15,000 men, have devised a scheme whereby the employees will be able to share in the profits of the concern to a greater extent than at present. They have devised a participating loan carrying a minimum interest of 5 per cent. per annum, free of income tax, and investors will also participate in the profits of the Trust. This is a fine example worth following.

HOME MARKETS.

BOMBAY, Nov. 26.

Further decline in the Home Markets is shown in the table given below :—

	16th Nov. 1920.	23rd Nov. 1920.
Liverpool Spot	1920 15-48	13-43—205
New York Spot	1920 19-75	17-30—195
	16th Nov. 1920.	25th Nov. 1920.

Liverpool Mar.	1921 13-08	11-07—201
New York Jan.	1921 17-10	16-45— 65
New York Mar.	1921 16-90	13-25— 65

After such heavy declines in the Home Markets, we can safely recommend our constituents to buy at about 15 cents in New York and between 10 and 11d. in Liverpool distant positions.

As for forward business in our local Market, it is quite possible that the Market may be opened next week unless no fresh hitches.

As for Ready Market, business reported during the week under review was very small and limited owing to continued heavy decline from Home Markets and also owing to Holidays.

FREIGHT MARKET REPORT.

Bombay, Nov. 26.

Market is lifeless. There is nothing of importance to be reported during the week. The only business of any importance was the booking of about 1000 tons for Trieste-Venice December at 60 and 65.

The tendency of the Market is week.

SUGAR MARKET REPORT.

Bombay, Nov. 26.

We have nothing special to report in our market which ruled quiet during the week with fair demand and prices have been reduced by eight annas per cwt. all round. Karachi and Calcutta markets remain quiet with lower prices and small business doing. Java market keeps quiet but steady with small fluctuations. American market also keep quiet with very little business. There are three more steamers to come from Java with 140,000 bags.

The following are the Bazar rates and sticks :—

TMD. Rs. 33-0-0 eq. 46s. F. B. Harbour stocks 175,000 bags.

Mauritius Rs. 34-0-0. stocks 30,000 bags.

COLOUR MARKET.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

Nov. 26

The market remains fairly active and the recent healthy tone is evident. Again the unfavourable exhange rate for the importers has caused the cost of further goods from home higher than some of the selling rates here and that has made given a steady tone to the market for since the Mohurat transactions. However the money market is seriously tight and the forecast is not easy. To-day's rates are:—

Congo-Red. (Nizam)	Rs.	4/8/0 to 5/ per lb
Congo-Red. (Bolt)	Rs.	4/ per lb.
Congo-Red. (Haven)	Rs.	4/ per lb.
Magenta Crystals.	Rs.	14/ per lb.
Mala hite Green.	Rs.	9/ per lb.
Methyl Violet.	Rs.	7/ per lb.
Direct Green.	Rs.	5/ to 6/ per lb.
Alizarine. I. P.	Rs.	800/ to 900 per drum.
Alizarine. (Ger.) 20,	Rs.	250/ per cwt.

CHEMICALS.

Nov. 26.

Bleaching Powder kept steady, without fluctuations in values. Sodium Sulphide has undergone slight shrinkage. Zinc Chloride has shown no tendency to decline. Bichromates of Potash and soda have rather poor demand. Aniline salt witnessed no material fluctuations with fair demand. Antimony salt arrived in good lots from home. Glauber salt continues with the heavy demand for finishing purposes in the mills. English stuff not being available, country stocks are consumed in very large stocks. The rates in this week are as follows :—

Sodium-Sulphide Rs. 35/50.
Zinc Chloride Rs. 40.
Bich-Potash Eng. 135.
Bich-Potash Jap. Rs. 132.
Antimony Salt Rs. 2/6/0 (lb).
Aniline Salt Rs. 1/12 (lb).
Glauber Salt. Rs. 6.
Caustic Soda Rs. 31.
Washing Soda Rs. 6/8.
Bleaching Powder Rs. 20.
Bleaching Powder (Jap) Rs. 18.
Epsom Salt Rs. 20.
Brown Sugar of lead Rs. 45.
Soft-Soap Rs. 20.
Maize Starch Pearl Amer Rs. 32.
Maise Starch Powder Rs. 25.
Farina K, Rs. 20.
Sago Pink Rs. 12/8/0.

MILL-STORES.

Nov. 26.

The market continued somewhat active. Fair demand is witnessed for Picking Bands, Pickers and Roller-skins. The scarcity of roller-skins is still the same a in last week. Best quality skins are available at Rs. 100 and upwards. Roller-cloths Kenyon are dear and scarce. Supply has not overtaken the demand, consequently, the price is varying between Rs. 7 and 8 per yd. The Sizing flannels, too have a robust demand. The rate fluctuates near Rs. 5 and upwards. Healds have shown a very slight decline, and the quotation for the best red-eyed stuff is Rs. 3, however, there are a few weak holders who part with their holdings at Rs. 2-12-0, owing to the stringency in the money-market.

The rate of exchange has shown further renewed weakness, which will entail still heavier losses to the importers. The uncertainity has greatly contributed to nervousness in the market. It is very ardently desired by the importers to have a steady exchange, so as to enable the merchants to adequately calculate their rates, for goods imported.

The quotations are as follows :—

Healds Rs. 3; Reeds Rs. 0-4-0; Roller-Cloth Rs. 7/8/0; Sizing Flannel Rs. 5 and upwards; Roller-Skins Rs. 100; Roller-Skins (country) Rs. 40/50; Picking Bands hairy Eng. Rs. 1-12-0; Picking Bands Chrome Rs. 2-8-0; Pickers Rs. 75; Roller Banding 1/2" Rs. 2-8-0; Roller Banding 3/8" Rs. 2/4-0; Cylinder and Doffer Fillets, Rs. 1-8-0; Shuttles Eng. 13½" Rs. 25; Shuttles Jap. Rs. 8/10; Slubbings Jap. Rs. 45; Rowing Rs 35; Conical Firn (Wilson) Rs. 25.

STANDARD BAROMETER READING.

The following information is published in order that vessels in the Bombay Harbour may by comparison with a standard instrument ascertain the errors of their barometer :—

The reading of the Standard Barometer in the Colaba Observatory corrected for index error and reduced to 32 deg. F. and to the level of the tide at 6-45 a.m. Standard Time on the 26th Nov. 1920 was 30·077 inches. For temperature corrections applicable to mercurial barometer of ships the reading of the ship's barometer has to be increased or decreased by 0·1 inch. for every 5 deg. according as the temperature of the attached thermometer is respectively below or above 80 deg. F. In case of the aneroid the temperature correction is needed but for comparison at 80 deg. The aneroid readings should be increased by 13 inches for correcting the ship's barometer either mercurial or aneroid for the height of the barometer cistern above the tide in the stream at 6-42 a.m., Standard Time the ship's barometer readings should be increased by 0·10 inch. for every 16 feet of the height to make it comparable with the observatory barometer reading given.

DAILY WEATHER REPORT,

Summary of observations recorded at 8 hours on Friday, the 26th November 1920, giving data for the preceding 24 hours.

The Punjab,—Skies are clear and the air is drier than usual. Both day and night temperatures are nearly normal.

The United Provinces.—Skies are clear and the air is drier than usual. Day temperature is nearly normal or slightly above the average; night temperature is nearly normal.

Sind and Rajputana.—Skies are clear and the air is drier than usual. Day temperature is slightly below the average at Jacobabad but is either normal or above the average elsewhere; night temperature is below normal at Bikaner and is above it in south Rajputana.

Gujerat, Kathiawar and Central India West—Skies are clear or only lightly clouded. Humidity is in excess at Dwarka and Indore and is in defect over the rest of the division. Day temperature is above the average; night temperature is above normal except at Bhuj and Bhavnagar-Para.

The Central Provinces.—Skies are lightly clouded. Humidity is in defect. Day temperature is nearly normal; night tem erature is above the average except at Khandwa and Hoshangabad.

The Konkan.—Mormugao reports 0·45" of rain Skies are moderately to heavily clouded. Humidity is in defect at Ratnagiri and in excess in the south. Day temperature is nearly normal; night temperature is above the average.

The Bombay Deccan and Hyderabad.—Skies are heavily clouded at Poona and Belgaum but are clear or only lightly clouded elsewhere. Humidity is in excess at Belgaum, but is in defect elsewhere. Day temperature is above normal at Nizamabad; night temperature is above the average over the division, the excess amounting 15° at Ahmednagar.

General Remarks.—Rainfall has decreased considerably over the south of the Peninsula and has been local in south Konkan and southeast Madras. Negapatam has had 2·48". Disturbed conditions in the southwest of the Bay appear to have moved a little northward and further out from the south Coromandel coast. Sea is reported as rough from Negapatam but has gone down at Colombo and Madras.

Forecast.—Local rain is likely over the southern half of the Peninsula.

India Telegraphic Summary for the 25th November 1920.

The disturbance over Ceylon yesterday has extended over the south of the Bay and heavy rain has fallen along the south Coromandal coast. Rainfall has been nearly general in southeast Madras and local on the north Coromandal coast. A few falls have also occured in south Burma, Mysore and Malabar.

Chief amounts not already shown in the Bombay Report are—Port Blair three inches; Madura two; Salem one and a half; Cuddalore four and Nellore two.

BLIND RELIEF ASSOCIATION AND COMING CENSUS.

A memorial to the Census Commissioner has been forwarded by the Blind Relief Association in which it is said 'inter alia' that the Association has reason to believe that the number of totally blind persons given in the ensus reports are very much understated and would venture to respectfully urge upon Government that special arrangements should be made at the forthcoming Census for the collection of information which will be more in accordance with the existing facts, in the interest both of general knowledge and more particularly of those forms of philanthropic efforts for the alleviation of suffering in which this Association has a part.

BOMBAY S. P. C. A.

During the month of October last, the Society employed in all 30 Agents, of these, 3 Agents were employed for Office and Hospital work. The 27 Agents employed for outdoor work succeeded in prosecuting 627 individuals during the month.

In 515 cases the accused were fined more or less.

In 13 cases convictions were obtained against bullock cart drivers for allowing their carts to be overloaded.

In 45 cases convictions were obtained against the drivers of Horses and Bullocks for perpetrating gross cruelty to their animals

In 13 cases owners of Horses and Bullocks were punished for allowing their unfit animals to be worked and were as follows:—

860 animals were treated by the Society's Veterinary Inspectors as out-patients free of any charge at our dispensaries at different courts. These include cases brought by the Police.

POSSESLION OO OPIUM WITHOUT MICENSE.

Before Mr. Frank Oliveira at the Esplanade Police Court, Nasrudin Basrudin, a Rampuri, was charged by Excise Inspector Vaz with possessing 25 lbs. of opium, without license, valued at about Rs. 1,000. It was stated for the prosecution that watch was kept for the accused at Cuffe Parade on the night of Thursday last by Chief Excise Inspector Navier. The accused was seen bringing a suit case and putting it in a motor car, when he was arrested, and the opium was found in the suit case. The accused pleaded not guilty and he was sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment.

The "Gazette of India", dated Nov. 24, announces that "Sir M. F. O'Dwyer, G.C.I.E., K.C.S.I., is permitted to resign His Majesty's Indian Civil Service with effect from 1st October, 1920."

BOMBAY AMUSEMENTS.

THE EXCELSIOR.

"The Brackens" have met with such success at the Excelsior Theatre that though their engagement is a very expensive one their season has been prolonged for another week, and an entire change of programme is to be presented during the week which commences to-day, with two performances nightly, as has been the case during the past week. As acrobats and wire entertainers: "The Brackens" want a lot of beating. They are as smart at their business as any one who have visited India in recent years, and many who profess to be above this sort of thing have found in the performances of this clever couple a very entertaining evening.

THE EMPIRE.

"Back to God's Country," on which the Empire Theatre is mainly relying to fill its accommodation during the coming week, is in some respects a remarkable film. The story has its setting in the Canadian wilderness from which it switches to the frozen Arctic northlands, where some of the most unusual scenes ever known to motion pictures were filmed. There a company of sixteen principals worked for a couple of months in a temperature which went as low as fifty degrees below freezing point and frost bitten hands and faces were the exception rather than the rule. One notable feature about "Back to God's Country" is the study of animal life that it provides.

THE EMPRESS.

Another new serial is starting at this theatre to-day, when the first three episodes of "The Third Eye" (which runs to fifteen episodes) are being screened. This promises to be a film with plenty of "go". To quote the producers (and film producers have never been known to tell a lie) it has "the flavour of the plains, the lure of the open, the swift riding and daring adventures that we may expect from the colourful west." The first instalment is promising. We are introduced to a gang of conspirators called the Evil Eyes, into whose meshes the heroine is inveigled, and all sorts of novel "stunts" have been arranged to keep the interest alive.

WEST-END CINEMA.

A convincing exposure of the dangers of falling into the hands of a moneylender is given in the new Photoplay "The Usurer" which will be shown at the West End Cinema. (New Churney Road) from to-day. The Picture, produced by the Gaumont Company, features M. Rene Creste, but the portrayal of the miserly moneylender is in the hands of G. Michel, already well-known for his clever character studies in the serials "Judex" and "Tih-Minh."

IMPERIAL.

The Jack Dempsey Serial The Daredevil Jack is now running its 3rd week at Imperial. The story gets more interesting and grips ones attention as the serial progresses, this week the 5th and 6th Episodes are being shown along with a new series of a 2 Reels Comedy entitled Jiggs in Society featuring Johnie H. Ray—a Comedy so funny that it would coax the cackles from a Hard boiled egg. The Indispensible Pathe Gazette concludes the weeks excellent programme.

ROYAL OPERA HOUSE.

"THE SPORT OF KINGS."

Sale Kernan, famed as a trainer, and with no understanding for women, is ruled off a northern track for charging collusion between a club member and the starter. "Bobie" Leland owner of the vicious tempered Vivandiere, the horse which prompts Kernan's allegation, takes her racer south to Granham, an outlaw track. By chance Kernan goes here after being ruled off the association tracks for his accusation against Francis Classon, who is the secret head and director of a national chain of bucker shops. A fire aboard the ship on which Kernan, Miss Leland and Vivandiere are en route to Florida, results in panic and while the crew cares for the passengers, Kernan, at the risk of his lift, rides the horse off the deck for a drop of forty feet to the water and guides it to safety.

At Granham, the southern outlaw track, he undertakes to train Vivandiere for the races. Carteret Dane, a nephew of Classon, goes to Granham, and is instrumental, with the aid of a voodoo negro, in disqualifying Vivandiere for fouling. Kernan discovers Dane's conspiracy and while Classon and his co-workers inveigle thousands of small betters to wager their limited means on Vivandiere, confident that Dane's plot for the second day's racing will succeed equally well and bring them sensational winnings, Kernan plans an equally sensational reprisal, and carries it out with thrilling and surprising results for "Bobie" Leland.

"MAZA DESH."

The drama "Maza Desh" or "My country" was staged for the first time at the Bombay Theatre on Thursday night. The Theatre was packed with the visitors. The play by itself, to say the least, embodies patriotic sentiments of very high order and throws a flood of light on the historical character of Shivaji to whom the good of his country was the "be all and end all" of his life.

But this is not all. The actors who were one and all amateurs most of whom were students from schools and colleges acquitted creditably of their respective parts. Mr. Chaphekar of Poona, a student of S. B. A. class elicited great admiration for his singing and acting remarkably well the part of the heroine, Mohana. He unquestionably holds out a promise of a prominent Marathi actor.

Among the distinguished guests, there was Mr. Pickthall of the "Bombay Chronicle" who was garlanded amidst loud continuous clapping. He remarked that he was greatly pleased at witnessing the drama and exhorted the younger people among the visitors to love their God and their country above all.

Y. M. C. A. ALL-INDIA SPORTS.

CHANGULE WINS MARATHON RACE.

The seventh All-India Open Amateur Athletic Sports commenced yesterday on the Oval, under the auspices of the Bombay Young Men's Christian Association.

The following gentlemen were the office-bearers of the Sports Committee:—

Mr. A. H. S. Aston, the Sports President; Mr. Ellis Judah, Chairman of the Managing Committee; Mr. Donald Munro, Director of Sports; Mr. A. C. Owen, Referee; Mr. G. H. Pettitt, Starter; Messrs. J. McGrath, E. L. Tyler, N. George, R. P. Mears, A. S. White, H. Rickwood, G. N. Minstrell and Lt. L. D. Morse, Judges and Time-keepers; Messrs. H. V. Martin and K. K. Benjamin, Competitors-Stewards; Mr. A. Greed, Clerk of the Course; Messrs. D. G. Moulton, H. E. Hayim, L. Rosenbloom and O. H. A. Ernest, Track Judges; Messrs. D. C. Shumaker and T. Ahlsand, Recorders; and Mr. G. R. Mayo along with Messrs. D. G. Moulton and O. H. A. Ernest, Announcers

Competitors came from various and distant parts of the country such as Lahore, Rawalpindee, Allahabad, Cawnpore and Risalpur. There was a large number of visitors and the sports began briskly.

Four events, Quarter-mile Race, Running Broad Jump, Half-mile Relay and Marathon Race, took place yesterday.

QUARTER-MILE RACE.

P. Powell (Rangers), Private E. Poole (1st Border Regt., Karachi), I. G. Worsley (Bombay), Sergt. Wilkinson (2nd Beds. and Herts., Trimughery), and Capt. G. St. John-Neal (101st Grenadiers, Aurangabad), ran in the first heat of the Quarter-mile Race.

Result:—

Sergt. Wilkinson 1; Pte. E. Poole 2; P. Powell 3; and I. G. Worsley 4.

SECOND HEAT.

N. J. Goddard, Lance-Corporal East, Lance-Corporal Crawford, St.-Sergt. A. J. W. Thompson, Pte. A. Rudge and W. T. McCallum ran in the second heat of the Quarter-mile Race.

Result:—

Lance-Corporal Crawford 1; W. T. McCallum 2; N. J. Goddard 3; and St.-Sergt. Thompson 4.

The first four in each heat would run in the final.

RUNNING BROAD JUMP.

I. G. Worseley, Sergt. Wilkinson, Lance-Corporal East, Bandsman Perkins, P. A. Walker, W. T. McCallum, S. Aaron, L. C. Smith, C. K. Nayudu, J. Dunford and W. Davis went in for Running Broad Jump. The first six of the competitors are to jump in the final.

Result:—

Sergt. Wilkinson 1; Lance-Corporal East 2; B. Perkins 3; L. C. Smith 4; C. K. Nayudu 5; and W. Davis 6.

HALF-MILE RELAY.

There were two heats, given teams competing in the Half-mile Relay. The first two in each heat are to run in the final.

A. Team of 2nd Beds. and Herts, Trimulgherry, Aircraft Depot, and B. E. S. Old Boys' Team were left in from the first heat and B. Team (2nd Beds. and Herts. Trimulgherry) and Casuals (Embarkation Medicals, Bombay) were left in from the second heat.

MARATHON RACE.

The last event and the one which excited the greatest interest of the spectators was the Marathon Race, which had its start from Mahim, nine miles and six furlongs from the Oval. Mr. P .D. Changule was the holder of the record for this event last year and this year too he appeared at the Oval first amid deafening cheers. W. Lee-Luyer came second and E. Jones third. Among the competitors who ran in this race were Brigadier J. Roberts, Narain, Khota Luxman Lingu Telo, Private Robe, Private Bennett, W. Lee-Luyer, E. Jones and Jehangir P. Gazdar.

CASE AGAINST STRIKERS.

"CROWD WAS QUIET."

SAYS SGT. WARDLE.

The case again came for hearing before Mr. A. H. S. Aston, when 37 strikers were charged with being members of an unlawful assembly and not dispersing when ordered to do so.

Prosecuting Inspector Finan conducted the prosecution; Mr. K. F. Nariman, Mr. Dhanjishaw, Mr. Haji and Mr. Deshpande with Mr. Ginwalla, defended the several accused.

The cross-examination of Mr. Oliviera was then taken up by Mr. Nariman.

MR. OLIVIERA.

At the outset Mr. Frank Oliviera, the witness, wanted with the permission of the Court to correct himself. He said the section was 40 of Police Act and not 42 as stated by him last time.

Continuing said the witness that the first thing he told the men was that he was a Magistrate; he repeated it three or four times. The crowd was about 20 feet deep and about 50 feet long. There was neither respect nor disrespect shown towards the witness. He did not tell this at Dhobi Talao, because he had told them only that he was a Magistrate. He did not think there were any new men who had joined the crowd at Dhobi Talao. He did not know who were in the crowd, whether they were strikers, or outsiders. Two or three of them came to witness and told him that they wanted some men who had been arrested to be set at liberty. Witness told them that he had nothing to do with it and ordered them to disperse. It was the advice of the members of the Bar that made the men to disperse

To Mr. Dhanjishaw: He did not know if anybody else had asked the men to sit before he arrived near Dhobi Talao.

To Mr. Haji: He received a message from the Commissioner at about 11-30 a.m., and he met him when he got on to the road. He had no discussion with the Commissioner of Police that the latter also had the power to disperse a crowd. They could take it from the witness that as soon as the crowd came to the Dhobi Talao the men at once sat down.

To Mr. Deshpande: A student in the crowd came to witness and asked him to disperse the police first. Some two or three men in the crowd came to the witness and asked him what he wanted, and it was just possible that two or three of the men did not understand him correctly. He did not see accused No. 1 taking his cap and asking the crowd to go home.

To Mr. Finan: He followed the crowd, although it was not defiant, because it was in a surly attitude.

Question: Did you notice any police interference with the crowd when it moved on to the Dhobi Talao?

Magistrate: This is not a Hunter Commission, where the conduct of 20 individuals is being enquired into. The questions must be relevant.

Deputy Inspector Mayne was then cross-examined.

SERGT WARDLE.

Sergt. Wardle in reply to Mr. Dhanjishaw said the crowd was very quiet when it moved on. He saw one man taking off his cap and asking the men to sit down. Other people might have also told the men to sit down. The mob was very quiet, and he did not see any police officer giving orders to the men to sit down.

After some further evidence had been taken the case was adjourned to 3-30 p.m. to-day.

BOMBAY STRIKES.

NO SETTLEMENT.

There has been not the slightest change in the position of the different strikes all over the city, and there seems to be no inclination on the part of both the employers and the men to come to any understanding, unless on their own terms. The impasse therefore continues. There has been no response from the Postal and Telegraph men to the notice of the Postmaster-General to resume work.

GAS CO. STRIKERS.

ONE BOUND OVER TO KEEP PEACE.

Before Mr. A. H. S. Aston, notice was issued against Anant Ramchandra and two other lamp-lighters of the Bombay Gas Co., at the instance of Mr. Burch, to show cause why they should not be bound over to keep the peace and be of good behaviour. Mr. N. N. Saher appeared for the Gas Co., and Mr. B. J. Dhondy showed cause.

It was stated for the prosecution that the accused who were in the employ of the Company were dismissed on their going on strike on the 1st October. On the 25th the accused together with some others went to the houses of the men who had resumed work and threatened them. There were about 800 men at the time, and they told the loyal men to cease work and light no lamps.

The first accused was bound in the sum of Rs. 500 to keep peace for a period of six months. The other two were set at liberty.

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE.

Saturday, November 27, 1920.

STUDENTS AND PARENTS.

A student writes to ask if we are not afraid that the parents will rise against us for encouraging their sons to form their own judgment with a view to act upon it at the coming Conference at Nagpur. He says that he has found, when trying to convince his apathetic comrades of the need of action, that in almost every case they had the same conviction as himself, but were restrained by the opinion of their parents. He also thinks us much too sanguine in supposing that there will be any "Co-operator" students at the Nagpur Conference, leaving us to suppose that the "Cooperators" will refrain from taking part in the discussions, not of their own wish, but in obedience to the wish of parents, who no doubt think that they are doing the best for their sons' education by thus keeping them in leading strings. Implicit obedience to parents is a duty for young children; and it is the parents who prescribe their course of action in a crisis like the present. Respect and reverence for parents is a sacred law, and we should be the last to wish to see it broken. But there is a limit to the son's obedience after he has reached a thinking age, and that limit is defined in the Coran as the attempt by the parents to make the son or daughter put anything on an equality with God—i.e., the parents must not assail the liberty of conscience of their children after these have come to thinking age. And a wise parent will allow his son, after that age, full liberty of conscience and the right to choose his own opinions and his course of action, because he knows that in that liberty of choice resides the most important part of education. Without it, the boy, though he may be successful in his studies, and in after-life may find a comfortable place, will never be more than half a man, for he will be deprived of initiative and originality, and is in danger of remaining a mere docile beast of burden to his dying day.

The whole point of that European Education which is apparently so much admired in India is lost if young men are to be deprived of all initiative. The parents of an English public schoolboy, not to mention an undergraduate, allow the boy full liberty to choose opinions, and by so doing win him ultimately to their own. The present writer, who has been through an English public school, can truly say that it is not the teaching or the magisterial discipline of such a school which educate the boys; but the code of honour and of comradeship which they themselves evolve often in opposition to the school authorities, and that self-discipline which naturally comes from the considerable measure of self-government allowed to them. Discipline is necessary to all civilised existence, but parental discipline should be for children only. If it is prolonged unduly, it makes the discipline of the policeman necessary, because it prevents the cultivation of self-discipline and so makes bad citikens. And really since the last great war the position of parents and children has become inverted to a great extent. While the parents were protectors of the children they could claim control of them, but the case must be considered altered when the children become protectors of the parents and are called upon to give their lives for their protection by the law. We would call the attention of all parents to the meaning of the words "of military age". When the son is called upon at any time to give his life for the defence of his parents and of all the older and the weaker members of his country, can he any longer be regarded as a political nonentity? In some countries of the world, at this very moment—in Turkey for example, and in Russia—all the men of military age and fitness (including all the students) are now fighting for their country; and the same would be the case in India, when she gets her national army, supposing that this country was attacked. The sons, who have this duty to perform, must face the problems of their country, must take part in politics.

The young men are too generous and too enthusiastic, say the parents. They are apt to be carried away by their enthusiasm. Well, are not their elders too self-seeking and too cautious? Are they not apt to be misled by mere pecuniary considerations? "Those whom the gods love die young"—that is to say, God loves generosity and enthusiam rather than self-seeking, and those who preserve those qualities their whole life long—even though they live to be a hundred—are the favoured of God. There is too much caution and self-seeking in the world, and far too little enthusiasm and disinterestedness. People say of an unselfish man: "He is too good for this world." Nothing is too good for this world, if it is to be the kingdom of God; and that is what the Muslims and all Indian Nationalists wish to make it. Therefore the parents who have grown, perhaps, a little cynical through their experience of life, must never seek to damp the generous fire in their grown-up children nor condemn enthusiasm which they can no longer understand. Our correspondent thinks that we are quite mistaken in supposing that there will be "two opinions" at the Students' Conference at Nagpur. He thinks that cooperating parents will prevent their sons from attending the Conference. We refuse to believe it. If that were indeed the case, then it would show that the sons of co-operating parents were all Non-Cooperators at heart; or at least that the parents were so far from sure of their allegiance that they dare not let them join in free discussion of the subject. If, as we are told occasionally, a majority of the students of India are in favour of a modified Cooperation in the field of action which concerns them, they have only to send their delegates to Nagpur, and make their views predominant. There are many questions in the student world at present which have nothing to do with Cooperation or Non-Cooperation, but are common to both parties; and there are certain aspects of Cooperation and Non-Cooperation which concern all students, and can only be dealt with effectively by the students themselves. Those subjects form a common ground of understanding, upon which the two opponent parties, while they sit together, will do well to concentrate. We have already stated our opinion that, after they have ascertained their differences of opinion, and placed the same on record, they should sit separately. But if the Cooperators stay away the Conference will lose one-half its usefulness and victory will go to the Non-Cooperators by default. The parents' triumph will in fact betray the weakness of their cause.

EAST AFRICA.

Mr. C. F. Andrews requires no introduction to the readers of "The Chronicle", but his articles upon the "Segregation policy" which is being pursued against Indians by the Government of East Africa under European pressure do require a special recommendation for they are of great importance. No one can accuse Mr. C. F. Andrews of an unfair bias, but his sympathy with Indians is well-known, and without that sympathy, we venture to declare, no one can be considered competent to judge a question such as that of the Indian community in East Africa, upon its merits. Where there is no sympathy there is no understanding and it is total lack of understanding, and of any wish to understand, which is at the root of the injustice which is being done to Indians in the name (God help us!) of European civilisation. It is contended that the Indian community is less civilised and addicted to insanitary habits, and that therefore it should be segregated from the European community in the interests of civilisation and health. Mr. Andrews is no mere theorist upon the subject. He has been to East Africa and has studied the relative conditions of the Indian and European communities there for himself; and in these articles he is able to refute some of the charges levelled against the Indian community by cases quoted from his own experience. The position of Indians in the British overseas Dominions is a standing grievance which has done more than anything else except the Turkish Treaty to shake the faith of India in British justice, and to weaken her affection for the British flag. But their treatment in East Africa is a still greater shame, for the Indians were there before the Europeans, and Indian interests are preponderant in the territory. Those interests—which are not without importance to the mercantile community of Bombay—are seriously menaced by the segregation policy, and the tendency towards arbitrary limitation of Indian right to exploitation to the less profitable and less healthy portions of the territory. The hard case of the Hon. Abdur-Rasul Aladdin Vishram quoted by Mr. Andrews in the article we published yesterday will open Indian eyes to what is going on, if any Indian eyes are still in need of opening; and Lord Milner's declaration has made matters worse. We believe that the Government of India is alive to the necessity of immediate and decided action in this matter; and we hope, ere many days are past, to be confirmed in that belief. It must be evident to thinking Englishmen as well as Indians that rampant Europeanism is misplaced in Africa—and Asia!

Notes of the Day.

National Education for Women.

Now that National Education is in the air, what is going to be done for the education of Indian women? In other Eastern countries—Egypt, Turkey, Syria—the evil of foreign education, which alone had been available until a few years back, in denationalising Eastern women and demoralising them from the Oriental standpoint, has been seen, and National Education has begun to be provided in those countries. How such neglect of women's education ever came to be allowed in Muslim countries, in view of the Prophet's saying: "To obtain education is incumbent upon every Muslim, male and female" we cannot imagine. But this we may say that it cannot be ascribed to male oppression since the men, directly they became alive to the deficiency, have sought to remedy it even against the will of a majority of women. The Coran condemns the treatment of women, as mere chattels, by the pagan Arabs, and gives to them an honoured and a legally assured position in the social order; it secures to them the right to inherit and own property quite independently of the husband or the father's claim on them; and it declares their absolute equality with men in matters religious and educational. The idea that Muslims think that women have no souls, still prevalent in Europe, is sheer calumny, and to be traced to monkish writings of the middle ages, when ecclesiastical controversialists thought it a righteous deed thus to calumniate "the Enemy of Christendom."

Present Position Among Muslims.

Still, the position of woman in Islamic lands at present gives some ground for the belief that the mind of woman is despised by Muslims. We believe that as a matter of fact the present condition of woman is not the result of thought or any policy evolved by men, but the result of circumstances. In the perpetual state of war which has been that of most Muslim countries for some centuries, the protection of women was the first consideration, and in a mixed population—for the Muslims did not, as the mediaeval Christians did, exterminate the conquered peoples of another faith, but let them live on side by side with them—where men of a different religion and morality abounded, their seclusion was considered necessary. These two conditions—coming, largely from necessity—threw education into the background. If a woman was preserved from capture by the enemy without, and from contamination by the enemy within, the men considered they had done their duty by her. But even in the worst of times there has never in Islam been any opposition to the education or the rights of women on the part of men. Every Muslim would at all times have agreed that it was better for a girl to be educated than uneducated; which has by no means always been the view of Europeans. Since the awakening of Turkey, female education has advanced with rapid strides; and we well remember the surprise and delight expressed by an Indian doctor when taken to inspect a school for little girls conducted by two Turkish ladies in Constantinople. He said: "If we could only have a school like that in India!" There are to-day a thousand schools like that in Turkey, in the territory occupied by Mustafa Kemal alone, who has a lady for his Minister of Education! Ten years ago there was not one such school. Schools can "spring up."—pace the "Times of India" which asserts the contrary—and miracles of progress can be wrought in Eastern lands, where men are moved, not singly, but by multitudes, if once the necessary enthusiasm is aroused. We have shown what has been done by Turkish Muslims: cannot the Indian Muslims do the same?

What is the Position in India?

So far we have referred to Muslims only, because our personal knowledge of the problem is confined to them. But surely every race and creed in India must be concerned with this question of feminine education. Women, as the mothers of the race, have enormous patriotic value, and their ignorance or wisdom is sure to be reflected in the future generation. It is not mere book-learning that is so important as the enlightenment and the amelioration of the lot of women, their emancipation and the improvement of their status, which comes from education in the highest sense. By keeping women in a state more backward than that of the men, we check the national development to an appreciable extent; not only that, but we immobilise and render useless quite half the force available for National progress.

Duty of Indian Nationalism.

The Indian nationalist movement has, on more than one occasion, made statements favourable to feminine emancipation. But words are easy, and we may be forgiven if we say that we attach slight value to those statements so long as feminine education is, in fact, neglected. It is no use sending girls to foreign schools, or for rich men to give their daughters foreign governesses. That is to de-nationalise the advance guard of the woman's movement. It is an actual disadvantage to the nation. The European view of woman and the Eastern view of woman differ radically. Let us admit that there is good in both, but there is greater truth to nature in the Oriental view, which Europeans very seldom can appreciate; and it is important to the future of the nation that that truth should be preserved and not distorted by the affectations and false doctrines of the West. Therefore the education of Indian women should be fundamentally Indian, no matter in what language it may be imparted. Mr. Gandhi is occupied with the problem of National Education for men. Will he not give some attention to National Education for women, of which the need is still more urgent, as it seems to us?

The East African Segregation Policy.*

BY C. F. ANDREWS.

II.

(Specially Contributed to "The Chronicle.")

I have always spoken out very strongly indeed, and without any reserve whatsoever, concerning the two crying internal evils of the Indian Community in East Africa, namely, (i) Bad Sanitation, and (ii) Bad Education. It is true, as I have again and again pointed out, that the Government, in both these matters, is very largely to blame; but it is also equally true, that the Indian Community itself could very largely set right to-morrow these two flagrant evils, if they would only get about this work in right earnest and spend some of their private funds upon it. For, it must be remembered, that the Indian Community in East Africa differs altogether, in one particular, from the Indian Community which I saw in Fiji. It has Indian merchants, of substantial wealth, among its members; and that wealth is not diminishing, but increasing. It is also sending large sums of money back to India, to support families in comfort there. So there is no excuse, except the excuse of human selfishness, for the fact, that so little is done to help poorer Indians to lead sanitary lives and to find proper education for their children.

Nairobi, The Terrible!

There have just been published, in East Africa some startling revelations concerning the filthy state of the Nairobi Bazaar. These revelations did not surprise me personally so much as they appear to have shocked and surprised other people; for I have been again and again into the Nairobi Bazaar myself, investigating on my own account, and I have seen the very things that have been described. It is good that these facts should have come to light. I shall give some extracts, which will show the condition that matters have reached. The Hon. W. J. Moynagh some weeks ago issued a challenge under the heading "J'accuse." It has never been seriously contradicted or denied or taken up and answered.

A Veritable Cesspool.

Mr. Moynagh was obliged to go to Dar-es-Salam soon after his challenge, but, on his return immediately continued his enquiries. I shall relate them along with the names he mentions; it will remain for those who have been challenged, both European and Indian, to reply: and I shall be glad to publish the reply, if any is made.

Mr. Moynagh first visited the property owned by Major Grogan (who is reputed to be a millionaire and who is bitterly anti-Indian) and Mr. Hudson and Mr. Kerr, three Europeans. The following account is given in detail:—

"There are comparatively substantial buildings, divided into a series of tiny cubicles, practically devoid of light and air, and as dirty as a town native can make his or her place of residence. Practically without exception these European-owned properties in the Asiatic quarter are occupied by native prostitutes—these horrible ghoulish parasites, who are to-day spreading foul diseases among the inhabitants of this town. These properties are sub-let to Indians, who in turn select their tenants, but it is to be hoped that the real owners of the property will, as white men, endeavour to see that only a respectable class of Asiatic or native tenants is allowed to occupy their property. The problem of the native prostitute is one to which a return may be made later in this campaign against existing slums."

DENS OF INIQUITY.

"These dens of iniquity are let for monthly rents varying from Rs. 30 to Rs. 10, according to the position of the "rooms" in relation to the street frontage. These, and similar tenants are occupying accommodation which, with some alteration and improvement, would be available for respectable Asian families, and the present position is merely another argument in favour of a native location. It is astonishing how many of these immoral communities exist all over the River Road area, where, at the back of substantial stone buildings, clinging like leeches to the walls of the structure, are corrugated iron warrens sans light, sans air, sans sanitation, sans almost everything civilised, occupied in the main by native women whose means of livelihood are given to the gravest suspicion, yet against whom no action is apparently taken by the police or other authorities. It would be interesting to know how many raids have taken place during, say, the last year."

The next allegation is very serious indeed, as it affects the credit of the Indian community, I quote it below, just as it stands:—

"HOMES LIKE PRISON CELLS."

"At another point in the area, not too far from Government Road, the hub of Kenya's civilisation, the slums assumed the terrible character of prisons, having, instead of adequate window space, small barred slots high up in the iron wall. The general method of access to these places is along a foul sanitary lane where the air reeks in the sun. Sandwiched in the centre of this squalor and filth one occasionally comes upon a shop—generally occupied by a butcher or other purveyor of the food which maintains health.

One range of substantial stone buildings, eminently suitable for business premises of a good class, is almost entirely devoted to the housing of natives—the majority of whom are prostitutes. The building must

IRISH DEBATE IN COMMONS.

MR. ASQUITH'S MOTION.

DUBLIN ASSASSINATIONS DENOUNCED.

"DROP POLICY OF REPRISALS."

SIR HAMAR GREENWOOD'S DEFENCE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Nov. 24.
Recd. 12-35 p.m. Nov. 26.

The Irish debate opened in the House of Commons to-day when Mr. Asquith proposed the motion condemning the outrages in Ireland, also "the action of the Executive in attempting to repress crime by methods of terrorism and reprisals" and urging immediate steps should be taken for pacification.

Mr. Asquith denounced the Dublin assassinations but declared that such crimes made it all the more necessary that the executive should be able to encounter them with clean hands. He asserted that evidence was accumulating that the forces of the Crown in various parts of Ireland had been raiding and destroying indiscriminately and these were not isolated acts of individuals. Evidence of organisation of the policy of reprisals had alienated the moderate Nationalists and was driving men to despair. There was only one way of escape and the first step was for the Government to drop the policy of reprisals.

SIR H. GREENWOOD'S REPLY.

Sir Hamar Greenwood in reply emphasised that cessation of the provocation to which the armed forces in Ireland were subjected, would mean that Ireland would automatically become peaceful. He continued:—The majority of the Irish people are on the best of terms with the soldiers and the police. They want peace and are getting peace because the forces of the Crown are breaking terror. But as for the minority of the extremists, who murder, burn, steal uniforms and inspire questions in the House of Commons (uproar) there is no solution except to seize and punish them.

AMERICAN CORRESPONDENTS' CONNECTION WITH SINN FEIN.

Sir Hamar Greenwood went on to say that the Government had certain knowledge that some American newspaper correspondents enjoyed the hospitality of the murder gang in Ireland and sent their newspapers matter to hurt Anglo-American friendship and they did their best to damage the British Empire, but the last American election showed they had failed to make the Irish question an issue.

Sir Hamar Greenwood then dealt with attacks on the creameries of which there were 710 in Ireland and of this number it was alleged that forty-one had been damaged or destroyed and the others more or less slightly damaged. He denied that they were destroyed systematically. They were sometimes the rendezvous of sections of the Irish Revolutiinary Amry and in some cases their destruction had been justified.

As an illustration of strict discipline in the force Sir Hamar Greenwood pointed out that not a pane of glass was broken in Dublin after the murder of the fourteen officers. There was no policy of reprisals and numbers of soldiers and police, who had been found guilty of looting and other offences, had been punished.

MORALE OF R. I. C.

Sir Hamar Greenwood criticised, Mr. Asquith for not yet having done anything to assist the soldiers and the police in their difficult task. He mentioned that under Mr. Asquith's administration the Royal Irish Constabulary was disheartened and underpaid whereas he (Sir Greenwood) had succeeded in restoring the morale of the force. Sir Hamar Greenwood declared that the Headquarters of the Irish Revolutionary army had offered in some cases one hundred sterling per skull of the police and the military, whilst £3,500 sterling had been spent mostly in Glasgow to buy arms. Plans had also been discovered for the destruction of the docks at Liverpool and a large power house at Manchester.

CAPTURED SINN FEIN DOCUMENTS.

Sir Hamar Greenwood read the captured documents showing that disorganisation was setting in in the Volunteer Army as a result of the present Government policy and that the assassins were sick of murder, which they knew was failing. He declared there was no civilised country that had a record such as the British Empire in dealing with crime. The Government was succeeding. The Sinn Fein forces had disappeared except in the back rooms where they met for propaganda purposes. Boycott had been broken, hunger striking was finished and intimidation was going. There is, he said, only one issue left—"who is for Ireland and the Empire and who for assassination?"

HOME RULE DEBATE IN LORDS.

VISCOUNT GREY SUGGESTS FURTHER CONCESSIONS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Nov. 24.
Recd. 1-15 p.m., Nov. 26.

In the Home Rule debate in the House of Lords to-day Viscount Grey contributed a speech following the lines of the proposals made in his recent letter to the "Westminister Gazette" in September on the Irish situation. He emphasised, however, that there must be one foreign policy in the hands of the Imperial Government, one Army and one Navy for, whatever Dominion Home Rule might mean thousands of miles away, England and Ireland were so close that their safety absolutely depended on undivided authority on these matters. He withdrew the suggestion about withdrawing the troops from Ireland after two years and admitted that no Government could say with certainty that it would do certain thing at a specified date.

He admitted they were intolerable and indignant at the recent murders but also astonished and anxious about the reports of the Crown forces getting out of hand. Was there not yet time, he asked, for Government to make a couple of alterations in the Bill which might make whole the divergence to its reception in Ireland. He suggested that the Bill fell short, as regards finance and urged that we should say frankly that we would take nothing from Ireland except what was given voluntarily and that instead of saying that if peace was offered Government would give fiscal autonomy to Ireland we should go further and say we would give it in the hope that it would produce peace. He concluded by saying that a similar peril was averted in South Africa by the grant of self-government, which was given only in the nick of time.

TRADE BETWEEN INDIA AND BRITAIN.

LORD MESTON'S VIEW SUPPORTED BY "MANCHESTER GUARDIAN.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Nov. 24.
Recd. 2-30. p.m., 26.

Commenting on the speech by Lord Meston on the problems of trade between Britain and India in which referring to the effect which an increasing measure of fiscal autonomy for India was likely to have on trade with Great Britain, Lord Meston said he did not fear a high general protective tariff but expressed the belief that India would do her utmost to foster the growth of manufactures not demanding high technical skill, the "Manchester Guardian" says.—This is compatible with the natural economic tendency which British trade has little cause to fear and from which it may ultimately benefit.

BOMB TRAGEDY IN CORK.

SIX DEAD AND EIGHTEEN INJURED.

NUMBERS OF BIG RAIDS IN DUBLIN.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Nov. 24.
Recd. 2 p.m. Nov. 26.

Cork was startled last night by an explosion is the main street which was crowded. The explosion is said to have been due to a bomb thrown from a passing taxi. Two persons were killed and fourteen injured.

The military raided the residence of the Rev. Walsh, the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Dublin and arrested a valet.

THE CASUALTIES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Nov. 24.
Recd. 2 p.m., Nov. 26.

The Irish debate in the House of Commons was preceded by the news of further outrages. The casualties reported to-day amount to six dead and eighteen wounded including three killed and fourteen wounded in the Cork bomb affair which remains shrouded in mystery.

The police are of the opinion that a home-made bomb was being examined by a number of men, when it was accidentally dropped. There were no police or troops in the vicinity. The exlposion occurred when the theatre-goers were returning home.

Fatal shootings are reported, the victims being a son of the postmaster farmer near Castlerea Mayo and a young man at Bally Longford, County Kerry.

The sixth victim was a farmer's son who was shot dead in North Kerry.

Medical evidence confirms that there was no case of bayonetting at the Croke Park.

RAID ON ARMY PENSIONS OFFICE.

The Army Pensions Office was raided today by armed men and a thousand pounds were stolen.

Two motorcars containing the police and the witnesses from a court-martial were ambushed in South Tyrone by the Sinn Feiners. The fusillade was terrific and five were severely wounded.

Dublin was to-day the scene of numbers of big raids including one on the Liberty Hall, Dublin Headquarters of the Transport and General Workers' Union, which has a membership of 20,000. Mr. Johnson, Secretary of the Labour Party and Mr. Farren last year's President and others were arrested. A large quantity of documents books and papers were seized and burned in a huge bonfire in the street. A quantity of military equipment was found. Later the offices of the Irish House Painters and the Allied Trades were raided and the Secretary was arrested. Further raids were made upon the Builders' and Carpenters' Society and the Catholic Benefit Society and numbers of arrests were effected.

THREE SINN FEINERS SHOT.

ATTEMPTS TO KILL GUARD IN GOAL FRUSTRATED.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Nov. 24.
Recd. 2-30 p.m., Nov. 26.

A graphic story of shooting of three prominent Sinn Fieners, Richard McKee, T. C. Clune and Peter Clancy is told officially in an announcement made by Dublin Castle. They were arrested on Saturday and confined in a guardroom at the Bridewell goal which contained a large amount of army material. Whilst the sentry's back was turned one of the prisoners threw a Mills bomb which, however, did not detonate. Another seized a rifle and fired at the guard but missed and the third attacked the guard with a shovel. All the three were shot dead.

Clancy was one of the conspirators in the attempted murder of Lord French and McKee is said to have been the chief of the Sinn Fein explosives department.

SENSATIONAL DIS

ORGANISED PLANS FOR DEST RUCTION.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Nov. 24.
Recd. 1-15 p.m., Nov. 26.

The Government has to-night published the Sinn Fein documents, recently seized, comprising plans for destruction of a great electric power house at Manchester and the dock gates at Liverpool. They are complete in every detail and were evidently drafted by a competent technical experts.

REVELATIONS IN SINN FEIN DOCUMENTS.

ELABORATE PLANS ORGANISED.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Nov. 24.
Recd. 2-30 p.m. Nov. 26.

The Sinn Fein documents published by the Government reveal that the ambition was to destroy the Manchester electric power and pump houses because when they had been destroyed "Manchester would have to shut down as all the furnaces are worked by electric blast. Moreover, the coal-mines would have to close and even might be destroyed as pumping would cease, while fifty per cent of the Manchester factories depend on current from this power station'."

A detailed scheme was worked out by a Sinn Fein spy, who describes the visit to the station and points out how best each point should be attacked. He suggested that the best time would be nine in the morning on Sunday. It is significant that this was when the murders occurred in Dublin. The plans provided for sixty-five armed men and five officers. The party was to be sub-divided and each sections was detailed off for certain principal point to be attacked with sledge hammers fire and explosives.

The plan for the destruction of the Liverpool dock gates and machinery contemplated that an incalculable amount of damage would have resulted not alone to the docks but also to shipping in them and that the whole of the work in the docks would be stopped for many days. It was planned to have 120 armed men including 27 engineers. The dock gates would be blown in by high explosive and the power stations destroyed. It was intended to precede the attack, with a view to causing a diversion by a series of numerous fires in cotton and other warehouses starting half an hour before the main operations.

"FREEMAN'S JOURNAL" IN TROUBLE.

MILITARY PROSECUTION FOR ALLEGED FALSE REPORTS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Nov. 24.
Recd. 9-30 p.m., Nov. 26.

The first military prosecution of the Irish newspaper was begun to-day in Dublin when two directors Messrs. FitzGerald and Edwards and the editor Mr. Hooper of the "Freeman's Journal" were court-martialled on a charge of publishing false reports calculated to cause disaffection, by publishing a story on September 16th that two police men shot at Tullow had been murdered by Black and Tans for having resigned from the Force. The trial is proceeding.

ESHER COMMITTEE RECOMMINDATION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

The Indian Association has passed a resolution urging upon the Secretary of State for India in Council and Parliament that no action should be taken upon the recommendations of the Esher Committee until they have been fully considered by the reformed legislatures and representative public bodies in India.

REMEDIES FOR HIGH PRICES.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, Nov. 25.

The report of the Prices Enquiry Committee has been published. The principal articles dealt with in the report are rice and cloth. After considering the principal causes of high prices of respective articles, the committee suggests remedies. Regarding rice the principal remedies suggested were the stopping of export and free import of Burma rice, enactment of an All-India profiteering act, starting of reserve and food-grains stores. As regards cloth the chief remedies suggested are the introduction of standard cloth, stopping of profiteering in manufactured articles, encouragement of handloom industries, and hand spinning, abolition of import duty on foreign piecegoods, prevention of speculation, starting of new weaving and spinning mills. In conclusion, the report says that the world-wide causes are at the bottom of high prices, still there should be a forward policy in the industrial developments in order to give India an economic stability.

FRENCH PREMIER ON GREEK SITUATION.

STATEMENT IN CHAMBER.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Nov. 24.
Recd. 2-30 p.m., Nov. 26.

Paris.—Premier Leaugues made statement in the Chamber on the Greek situation. He emphasised that France did not wish to interfere with the domestic affairs of Greece but said that if on the morrow of the war a Power recalls to the Throne a Sovereign, who was an accomplice of the Allies' enemies, this Power must be warned that it will no longer find the same feelings or the same assistance from the Allies. Moreover, the treaties make it incumbent on the Protecting Powers to warn Greece as regards the gravity of the act, which might enable Germany to intervene in the Orient, where she fomented a war. The Government intends to act with the British Government and definite measures will be decided at a meeting of the British and the French Premiers.

INDIA IN PARLIAMENT

MR. MONTAGU ANSWERS QUESTIONS.

BURMESE REFORMS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Nov. 24.
Recd. 9-30 p.m., Nov. 26.

Replying in the House of Commons to Mr. Terrell, Mr. Montagu stated, that he did not propose to take any steps towards the introduction of compulsory military service for Europeans in India, until he had seen what success attended the Voluntary Auxiliary Force. He hoped to receive in a few days a report of the progress of that force, for which he had asked by telegraph.

Replying to Sir J. D. Rees and Col. Yate who asked whether the Government of India Act of 1919 would be applied to Burma, Mr. Montagu stated, that the whole question was still being considered and the final decision had not yet been reached. No action would be taken without submitting the decision to a vote of both Houses of Parliament.

Commander Kenworthy asked for an assurance that peaceful conditions in Burma would not be a reason for delaying the necessary constitutional reforms. Mr. Montagu replied that his experience was that peaceful conditions accelerated and unpeaceful conditions retarded reforms.

KARACHI ENDORSES NON-COOPERATION.

DEFEAT OF ANTI-NON-COOPERATIONISTS.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

KARACHI, Nov. 20.

Great excitement prevailed in the city over the notice of a public meeting announced to be presided over by Hon. M. De. P. Webb to pass the following resolution standing in the names of Mr. Jamshed Mehta, Chairman National Home Rule League and Mr. E. L. Price, Chairman Indo-European Association who recently subscribed to the Dyer fund:—"That this public meeting of the citizens of Karachi urges Sind's representatives on the Council of State, Legislative Assembly and Bombay Legislative Council to form themselves into a union of progress with the object of actively promoting the welfare and development of the people and province of Sind."

The Secretary of the Sind Provincial Khilafat Committee issued a notice requesting the public to muster strong and to express emphatic disapproval of the contemplated union of progress. This intensified the excitement in the town and there was heated talk throughout the day. Long before the meeting time people came and thronged the compound and premises of the hall. On such occasions the hall opens an hour earlier, but this time it was kept locked by the municipal authorities up till 7 p.m. The hall and verandahs were packed to their fullest capacity.

CITIZENS ASSERT THEMSELVES.

Mr. Webb quietly took the chair without being proposed Doctor Ahmed rose amidst shouts of "Vande Mataram" proposed Professor Vaswani to the chair. Professor Vaswani was elected. Mr. Jamshed Mehta was called upon to propose his resolution, which he declined to do unless Mr. Webb presided. Mr. Webb with the president's permission tried to persuade the audience to accept his arrangement. On votes being taken his suggestion failed, as it obtained only three votes. Immediately Mr. Webb and his party left the hall.

The following resolution were then duly passed. This public meeting of the citizens of Karachi reaffirm its faith in the Congress decision on Non-Cooperation as the only policy open to the country in its struggle to secure justice for Islam and the Punjab and to achieve Swaraj.

This meeting of the citizens of Karachi emphatically repudiates the claims of the Muslim and non-Muslim Sindhis in any of the Reformed Councils to be regarded as representatives of the people of Sind.

This meeting of the citizens of Karachi opposes the idea of organising in the name of the citizens of Karachi a union of progress an association which is promoted with a view to combat Non-Cooperation and of which at least one European member promoted has forfeited all claim to public confidence by subscribing to the Dyer fund.

This meeting further asks, as earnestly as it can, all Indians to dissociate themselves completely from the proposed union of progress out of respect for the sanctity of public sentiment and in the best interests of the people and the province.

Messrs. Lalchand Narsinglal, Mohammadkhan Sidwa, Abdul Rahman, Seth Sunderas and Seth Najiabdulla Haroon made vigorous speeches on the resolutions.

SIR M. O'DWYER.

RESIGNED FROM I. C. S.

The "Gazette of India" dated Nov. 26 announces that "Sir M. F. O'Dwyer, G.C.I.E., K.C.S.I., is permitted to resign His Majesty's Indian Civil Service with effect from 1st October, 1920."

ARBINDO GHOSE AND NON-COOPERATION.

NO PRONOUNCEMENT YET.

In view of the conflicting rumours that have been set abroad, some representing Sri Aurobindo as for the Reforms and others as for Non-Cooperation, Sri Mati Lal Roy, his spiritual agent in Bengal, was requested by those in charge of their spiritual organ, in this humble instrumentality of our "Standard Bearer", to write to him in Pondicherry and as a result of the letter he had written to his master, Sri Mati Lal, has received the following reply which we are authorised to publish:—

"Dear M—

All these assertions are without foundation. I have made no pronouncement of my political views. I have authorised nobody whether publicly or privately to be the spokesman of my opinions. The rumour suggesting that I support the Montagu-Chelmsford Reforms and am opposed to Non-Cooperation is without basis. I have nothing to do personally with the manifesto of Sir Ashutosh Choudhuri and others citing a passage from my past writings. The recorded opinions of a public man are public property and I do not disclaim what I have written; but the responsibility for its application to the Montagu-Chelmsford Reforms and the present situation rests entirely with the signatories to the manifesto. The summary of my opinions in the "Jatmabhumi", representing me as an enthusiastic follower of Mahatma Gandhi, of which I only came to know the other day, is wholly unauthorised and does not 'render justice to my views' either in form or in substance. Things are attributed to me in it which I would never have dreamed of saying. It is especially adding insult to injury to make me say that I am ready to sacrifice my conscience to a Congress mandate and recommend all to go and do likewise. I have not stated to any one that 'full responsible self-Government completely independent of British control or any other purely political object is the goal to the attainment of which I intend to devote my efforts and I have not made any rhetorical prophecy of a collosal success for the Non-Cooperation movement. As you well know, I am identifying myself with only one kind of work or propaganda as regards India, the endeavour to reconstitute her cultural, social and economic life within larger and freer lines than the past on a spiritual basis. As regards political questions, I would request my friends and the public not to attach credence to anything purporting to be a statement of my opinions which is not expressly authorised by me or issued over my signature."—"Standard Bearer."

REFORMED COUNCILS.

RESULTS OF ELECTIONS.

The following is the result of Elections from the Indian Merchants' Chamber and Bureau for the Indian Legislative Assembly and the Bombay Legislative Council:—

Out of a total electorate of 490 members there were 241 votes registered in the Indian Legislative Assembly and 240 for the Bombay Legislative Council. For the Indian Legislative Assembly, the Hon. Mr. Manmohandas Ramji got 128 votes, Mr. Jehangir Bomanjee Petit 76 votes, and Mr. Mowji Govindji Sheth 37. The Hon. Mr. Manmohandas Ramji is duly elected.

For the Bombay Legislative Council, the Hon. Mr. Chunilal Vijbhukhandas Mehta got 163 votes and Mr. Motilal Kanji 74 votes. The Hon. Mr. Chunilal V. Mehta is duly elected.

For the seat allotted to the Bombay Millowners' Association in the Bombay Legislative Council, Mr. N. B. Saklatwala secured 50 votes as against 36 recorded for the other candidate, Mr. Cowasji Jehangir.

ELECTIONS IN UPPER SIND.

A DISMAL FAILURE.

(From a Correspondent.)

KARACHI, Nov. 20.

The Upper Sind Frontier District which lately smarted under Mr. Smyth's tyrannical rule is slowly awakening. At Sanjar Bhati polling station none out of 755 Hindu and Muslim voters voted, despits official frowns and threats. Although 600 voters went to the station, on hearing the Ulmas' fatwa and the nation's decision they changed minds and abstained from voting

TROUBLE OVER ELECTIONS.

(Associated Press.)

DELHI, Nov. 26.

In view of the election of Mr. E. Clarke, as Trades candidate to the Punjab Legislative Council to represent the joint constituency of the Punjab Chamber of Commerce and the Punjab Trades Association and the disallowance of the nomination of Mr. Gray, the Chamber candidate on technical grounds, an emergency meeting of the Managing Committee of the Chamber will be held on Tuesday evening, to discuss what action should be taken regarding its representation.

THE EAST AFRICAN SEGREGATION POLICY.

bring in a substantial sum of rental monthly The owner is alleged to be one of the prominent Indian merchants in Nairobi, and chairman of the last Congress.

The Visram Estate.

Mr. Moynagh's enquiries next brought him to the estate of the Hon. Abdul Rasul Alladina Visram. The account reads as follows:—

On the Visram Estate, the occupants of the corrugated iron rooms appeared to be reasonably satisfied with the rooms hired to them at an average rent of Rs. 10 per month. Each family was allotted a separate room, which was kept as clean as such a place of residence could be maintained and the whole dhobie community was one of the happiest and most contented in the Asiatic area. The layout of the buildings shows some common sense and in most cases the dhobies have a room for working in and an adjoining apartment in which they live. There are one or two black spots even here, however, particularly down the hill towards the Swamp level, where a few erections of a most primitive type, composed of pieces of iron hung together in patchwork fashion, are occupied by human beings. A visit to these places would convince Mr. Visram that there is room for improvement on his property.

Swamp Road Estates.

A great contrast is found when the road, with the ominous name "Swamp Road", is reached.

"It is stated that Mr. Waljee Hirjee, another prominent Nairobi merchant, owns that den of immorality in Swamp Road, the existence of which is an insult to the users of that important thoroughfare. The collection of buildings includes dhobies' quarters, prostitutes' houses of the worst type, frequented in broad daylight by natives, Indians, Asiatics—and sometimes so-called Europeans; cattle kinas, dung pits, grass huts and the like."

A little further on, the condition of things, if anything, becomes even worse. It is described briefly as follows:—

Another horrible state of affairs was discovered behind the premises of Messrs. Umtizali and Son. The rear premises, fed by a narrow, dirty lane, bounded on one side by latrines, strewn with decaying vegetable matter and pitted with water-filled holes, constitutes a veritable warren.

The end of the journey was reached at a place, which is locally known by the name of

The Grogan Swamp

This swamp has provided Major Grogan with a huge percentage, in the way of rents, for many years past. The writer says:—

Towards the end of the journey, a visit was made to the Swamp property, built on ground belonging to Major Grogan. Here again, disgraceful living conditions were encountered— ramshackle buildings, half iron, half mud and wattle, devoid of light or air, in most cases as dark as the pit inside, but paying a regular ground rental of Rs. 6, Rs. 9 and Rs. 12 to Major Grogan. These houses were, in most cases, erected by the Indians themselves, but in some cases they have been there for years and presumably no standard of housing was laid down when the ground was leased. On other portions of the Grogan Swamp, Asiatics and natives are living in conditions of squalor and filth in tiny ramshackle huts scarcely fit for occupation by a primitive African.

The Government Responsibility.

I have given just as they stand, these statements, which have been widely published and commented on in the East African papers, They will no doubt be copied in South Africa, and in Rhodesia and Zanzibar, and possibly in England itself. It is necessary that Indians, in India, should have these statements clearly before them, and also study them closely; for on these sanitary questions, and on these alone, rests the whole case of "race segregation."

Yet, what do they actually imply? First of all, they prove clearly, that European landlords are to blame for this disgraceful state of affairs, equally with Indian landlords. Indeed the only private estate mentioned with praise in the whole list, during Mr. Moynagh's visit, belongs to Mr. Alladina Visram, an Indian. Secondly, they prove clearly that Government itself has been responsible for more then half of the evil. It must be remembered that Nairobi is a new township: it could have been taken in hand and regulated and made sanitary from the very first. But Government failed in its duty. How far vested European interests and monetary gains prevented a predominantly European Municipal Council from taking action, may never be known. But the fact remains; Government itself allowed these disgraceful things to go on.

Segregation no Remedy.

Of one thing, I am absolutely certain, from all that I have seen in South Africa Segregation is no remedy. It will only make matters worse. The only true remedy is for Government immediately to step in and enforce sanitary regulations on European and Indian landlords alike.

BOMBAY ENGINEERS' CONGRESS.

READING OF IMPORTANT PAPERS.

Yesterday, the Bombay Engineering Congress met again at the Cowasji Jehangir Hall of the Royal Science Institute, under the presidency of the Hon. Dewan Bahadur K. R. Godbole. The audience was a little larger than on the previous day.

ON IRRIGATION.

In the morning the assembly discussed a paper on "Modules and Semi-Modules for Irrigation", submitted by Mr. C. C. Inglis.

The author of the paper stated that when he first arrived in this country he was led to understand that India was waiting for someone to invent a satisfactory Module; no one, however, explained to me what they meant by a Module, and he gradually discovered that the term was used in a very loose way. Similarly, though more than one speaker on Mr. Joshi's Module paper at last year's Congress urged that nothing should be done to discourage young engineers from essaying to invent a Module, no one attempted to set forth clearly the conditions that had to be met. Indeed it was clear from the discussion that the term was used indiscriminately to cover radically different types of regulating contrivances. To show the extent to which the confusion had reached he pointed out that in the Punjab a "rateable" module was understood to mean a device for passing a discharge which was proportional to the discharge in the parent channel (i.e., a proportional discharge semi-module), whereas in the Bombay Presidency—and "rateable module" was understood to mean a Module which can be "rated" to give any desired discharge.

He defined "Module" as a device for ensuring a constant discharge passing from one channel into another irrespective of the water level in each—within certain limits.

A "Rateable Module" was a Module which could be set to give any desired discharge.

A "Semi-Module" was defined as a device which prevented fluctuation in the downstream water level from affecting the discharge.

In conclusion, he said that it appeared to him that instead of talking about encouraging young engineers to invent modules, what should really be done was to encourage them to experiment with existing types, which about cover all requirements and were not likely to be improved on—at any rate by anyone who had not learnt the technique of the subject.

ELECTRICAL INSTALLATION.

In the afternoon when the Congress reassembled after lunch, a paper, which Mr. R. G. Higham had submitted, dealing with "Electrical Installation Work in Bombay", was discussed.

The author's object in putting forward this paper was, that other members of the Congress than Electrical Engineers might realise the difficulties which had to be contended with in electrical installation work in and around Bombay. He did not propose to deal with conditions in India generally, as those differed very greatly in different parts, chiefly owing to climatic conditions.

Electrical installation work in Bombay was vastly different from work carried out in England owing to climate and workmen.

In England one of the best and the most artistic was "Stannos Wiring": it was water-proof and cheap to install. This wiring could not be used in India owing to the workmen not being able to install.

Regarding electric lighting the author observed that lighting was most interesting and generally neglected, very little pains being taken to arrange the lighting of both bungalows and offices in an efficient and systematic manner. Effective illumination depended upon two factors, viz., the power of the light and the nature of the surrounding. He stated that in bungalows one did not as a rule keep one's eyes fixed in any definite direction as one would in an office that far more than usual care was needed to avoid glaring and intense light. This important factor did not appear to have been considered in most of the Bombay bungalows; consequently one saw in many rooms silk shades slung over the lights in order to mitigate the faults of the Engineer who installed the lighting. The advantage of frosted lamps were not fully realized. He suggested that a much better plan is, to have the office lighted by using semi-indirect fittings, the ceiling being painted white and the walls a light colour. By using half watt lamps in the fittings, this form of lighting is cheap and effective as the diffusion from the white ceiling enables the light to penetrate to the corners of the room and enter into recesses, cupboards, pigeon-holes, etc., when direct lighting would cast a shadow; light coming from a large area is instrumental in avoiding glare from polished surfaces and slightly glazed paper. By using this method of lighting, when partitions, desks and cupboards are moved, it would not be necessary to move the lights also.

Turning to "heating by electricity", Mr Higham stated that the great advantages of using electric current for cooking, vacuum cleaning, ironing, etc., were not yet realized in India. America realized this some few years ago and England appeared to be waking up. He hoped before long they would see more electricity being used for household purposes in Bombay.

COST OF RUNNING A MOTOR CAR.

The Congress then discussed three more papers on "The cost of running a motor car", on "Re-inforced concrete Balustrade" and on "Pioneering and Hydraulics", submitted by Lieut.-Col. C. Graham-Smith, Mr. S. R. Perfect and Captain F. G. Carron, respectively.

Mr. Graham-Smith in presenting his note on the "Cost of running a motor car" stated that the great majority of car owners take a great pride in their cars, and when comparing running costs, there is a very natural tendency to state a fiugre that errs on the low side through the omission of some not inconsiderable charges. This was brought to notice in a very striking way by Studebaker who asserted that he ran his car at about three annas per mile. When a number of items that he had omitted had been included, the actual cost approximated to nearly eight annas per mile—much to the surprise of the professor of the car in question

Running costs are a matter of interest to all motorists, and especially to Engineer-owners, who generally are in a position to keep expenditure per mile at the lowest possible amount. In submitting this note it is hoped that the discussion will elicit much useful information.

APPOINTMENT OF PRESIDENT.

After the discussion of papers was over, a general meeting of the Congress was held when Mr. R. J. Kent and Mr. E. M. Froes, were appointed President and Vice-President, respectively of the Congress, for the coming year. A Committee consisting of five members was also appointed.

On the motion of the President, a hearty vote of thanks was then accorded to Mr Trench, Secretary of the Congress, for his efforts in making the Congress a thorough success.

After another vote of thanks to the chair, the proceedings were brought to a close

MUSLIM NATIONAL UNIVERSITY.

ITS CONSTITUTION FORMED.

(Associated Press.)

DELHI, Nov. 26

A correspondent telegraphs from Delhi:—A meeting of the Muslim National University Foundation Committee was held on the 22nd November, under the presidency of Hakim Ajmal Khan. Twenty-eight members attended, among whom were Maulanas Abulkalam Azad, Mohamedali Shaukatali, Doctors Ansari and Kitchlew, Hasrat Mohani. Mahatma Gandhi was also present. Seventeen new members were elected from different provinces. As Dr. Ansari could not stay at Aligarh permanently on his suggestion some local member was elected Secretary in his place. Hakim Ajmal Khan and Haji Moosa Khan of Aligarh who are local men were elected President and Secretary respectively. Messrs. Anwarulhoda, Tasadduga Ahmed Sherwani were elected Joint Secretaries. A managing committee consisting of the office-bearers and ten ordinary members with the principal and one member of the staff was elected for carrying on the work. It was resolved to begin work with the present university curriculum with the necessary changes and addition of theology as a compulsory subject. Further it was decided to admit also Hindu students. Muslim and Hindu educationists were to form the first Ulemas preparing the new University curriculum and for recommending a detailed scheme of national education with special reference to religious needs. The new curriculum, it is expected will come into force from next year. The committee was authorised to arrange for the University and admission examinations, as well as for scientific instruction at independent national science institutes. They were also to frame rules for affiliating other national institutions in and outside Aligarh.

ESTIMATE OF EXPENDITURE.

The question of establishing a national school at Aligarh was then considered and the managing committee was authorised to erect buildings for temporary use and to appoint competent teaching staff for the same. It was decided to give pecuniary assistace to the poor and deserving students from Aligarh College and elsewhere. It was resolved to request Dr. Iqbal to accept the principalship. A rough estimate of monthly expenditure of Rs. 10,000 including boarding and lodging expenses for students was recommended to the managing committee for consideration. The foundation committee would last till the election of the new bodies of the university under the new constitution. Cash donations amounting to Rs. 1,045 were received on the spot, while promises of annual donation of Rs. 7,340 were announced at the meeting, the latter includes annual donations of Rs. 6,000 from Seth Haji Abdullah Haroon of Karachi and 1,000 from Haji Jan Mohamed of Peshawar.

DR. IQBAL DECLINES PRINCIPALSHIP

LAHORE, Nov. 26.

With reference to the resolution of the Muslim National University Foundation Committee to request Dr Iqbal of Lahore to accept the Principalship,, Dr. Iqbal when interviewed declined the offer.

NATIONAL SCHOOL IN BOMBAY.

TEACHERS URGENTLY WANTED.

The Bombay branch of Swarajya Sabha has appointed a committee to open a National School to be affiliated to the Gujarat University at Ahmedabad The Committee's work has now been somewhat hastened by 200 students almost suddenly leaving the local G. T. High School.

It has now been decided to start a School immediately to provide for these students. The School will be opened on Saturday at 12 noon at the Marwari Vidyalaya and will be temporarily accommodated at the Gandharva Vidyalaya. For the present all the middle and high school classes will be conducted in the morning from 10-30 a.m. to 2-30 p.m.

Teachers are urgently wanted for the school. Competent and qualified persons should see the Secretaries at the office of the Swadeshi Sabha in Krishna Buildings, Hornby Road on Saturday between 4 and 6 p.m.

In acknowledging receipt of a special copy of the Mazagon Institute's Jubilee Report, Her Majesty Queen Amelia of Portugal has been pleased to address to the Institute's President a very gracious letter expressing satisfaction at the work of the Institute.

THE PRESENT SITUATION IN INDIA.

A MISSIONARY BODY'S APPEAL.

We, the members of the National Missionary Council of India, Burma and Ceylon, meeting at a time when men's minds in India are deeply moved, and passions are excited to a dangerous degree, and believing that some at least may look to us for guidance, place on record our conviction, that any Christian view of the present situation in the world at large and in India in particular must take account of the following principles:

1. Our Master has said "One is your Father," and "All ye are brethren." These are the fundamental principles of human society as God designed it to be.

2. Every man and woman is of infinite value in God's sight, which He showed preeminently by sending His Son to die for all. Because God so loves them, we must treat every man and woman with respect. It is wrong to treat any with arrogance or contempt, or to use any as a chattel or as a machine.

3. Every association or community of men is intended by God to be a brotherhood, in which each tries to do all the service he can for all the others.

4. This conception of brotherhood should determined all industrial relations, putting an end to injustice and dishonesty, inconsiderateness and carelessness of employers and employed

5. This conception of brotherhood, again, should determine all relations within the State, between these who govern and those who are governed, causing all Government to rest upon the foundation of willing consent, securing the glad and hearty co-operation of all for the good of the country, and excluding oppression, violence, intimidation, suspicion and misrepresentation.

6. Once again, this conception of brotherhood should determied the relations between nations, turning the world into a family of nations, respecting and helping one another, instead of injuring one another by selfish competition and from time to time breaking out into open war.

7. Under this conception of brotherhood a group of nations, such as the British Empire, should live together like a family, in which there would be no thought of the exploitation of weaker races, or of discrimination against any peoples on purely racial grounds, still less of victimising any of them by traffic in injurious products, such as alcohol or narcotics. The single aim of the stronger and more advanced members of such a family should be to assist the progress of the others in prosperity, good Government, freedom and every other good thing.

8. Again Christ said that He came that men might have abundant life. We recognize, therefore, that it is His will that all men should have ever greater and better opportunities of developing the fulness of human life, social, political and spiritual.

As Christians, we must confess that we have failed in a lamentable degree both in individual and in national life to accept and follow fully these principles of Christ. But it is very clear to us that the salvation of society depends on the acceptance and the application of them.

Upon these principles then we base the following appeal:—

AN APPEAL FOR UNITY.

We appeal for just and sane judgments both of men and things. It is not just to judge a century by some of the months in it, a whole nation by certain of its members, or its whole history by a few of its pages. The history of every Imperial Power contains pages stained and disfigured; we do not pretend that the history of the British Empire is an exception to this rule. But the fact is beyond controversy that now for a long time it has been characterised by an ever growing tendency to grant to its component parts increasing measures of self-government. The Empire is becoming a Commonwealth of nations and these nations are learning to regard themselves as a family. The attention of the British people is now turned to India, and we believe that there is a general and sincere desire among them that India should have full self-government as soon as possible. We urge all the inhabitants of this country, both foreigners and Indians, to accept with goodwill the recent changes in the system of Government, and to do all in their power to make the new conditions a successful stage in the progress toward that goal. Given mutual good will on the part of both races and confidence in each other's intentions, the future will be bright with promise.

We call upon all men in the name of God to lay aside all race hatred and class hatred, upon which it is impossible to build any solid structure, social or political.

We utter a solemn warning against the desperate and false contention that the inequalities of the existing order can only be removed by violence and blood. The truth is that Society cannot be reconstructed by breaking the elementary laws of God and man.

We utter an equally solemn warning against the inclination, which is one of the evil legacies of war, to trust to force as the means of procuring obedience and maintaining authority. The truth is that society cannot be saved by force apart from that reasonableness and equity in Government and administration which win the hearts of the people.

We beg all our fellow citizens to turn to God, who created them to be brethren, and to seek from Him, who alone can give it, the power to love as brethren and in love to serve one another. By that power we can find the way out of our anxieties. In His light we shall see light.

A special meeting of the Khilafat Gorakhpur, appreciate and record their sense of great satisfaction of workers at the manly and timely decision of Nadua refusing Government aid, and warmly congratulated the Trustees and students on their obedience to the dictates of conscience and the Commands of God, which has won the heart of the entire Muslim community.

SIR G. LLOYD.

THE NEXT VICEROY?

RUMOURED DEPARTURE ON DEC. 4.

(From our Correspondent.)

ALLAHABAD, Nov. 26.

The "Independent" says, it is reliably informed that the Governor of Bombay intends to sail on the 4th December, and it surmises, "it is a well-known convention that a future Viceroy of India should not be in the country, when his nomination is announced. Our suggestion is that Sir George Lloyd is the real choice and that his leaving Bombay on December 4th will be followed by the official announcement.

BOMBAY MILLS.

OWNERS' PROFITS AND WORKERS' SLUMS.

The "Bombay Chronicle" has given publicity to a striking article which Mr. S. H. Batliwala has contributed, under the heads "Our Prosperous Mill Industry; Dehumanising Conditions." The story of the miserable housing of the Bombay cotton operatives has been told a good many times, but, says "The Manchester Guardian," it has never before, as far as we know, been coupled with such a record of great profits made as Mr. Batliwala has compiled. It is doubly opportune, therefore, to insist upon reforms now, when there are ample means of carrying them out.

"Behind the fresh veneer of welfare work, provident funds, shorter hours of work, there exist in Bombay," says Mr. S. H. Batliwala "appalling conditions under which our labour is housed. These conditions existing in the second city of the Empire are nothing short of a grave scandal. The filth and squalor of Bombay stink even in the nostrils of Lord Morley, and a thousand league of ocean between him and us cannot deodorise them. Sir Thomas Holland would sooner have our great industrial structure reduced to the ashes of Louvain. The health bill of Bombay's slums is the foulest that can be imagined. Epidemics take untold toll of the inmates. In the ordinary course hardly one baby out of three survives the period of infancy. The off-spring of a decadent stock and nurtured on poison and filth, he fails to be the nucleus of a virile labour force so very vital both in quality and quantity to the future well-being of the industry."

Now let us turn to the means of providing something better. The balance sheets of 55 mill companies we are told, show that out of a total working capital of 49 crores 21 are reserves, 17½ are borrowed money, 1½ come from preference shareholders, and only 9 have been supplied by the ordinary shareholders. A big proportion of the capital, therefore, has been obtained at a lower rate of interest than it has earned, and the ordinary dividends have large balances for reserves, although the dividends shown in the balance sheets under review averaged 50 per cent. Bombay aspires to be an even greater manufacturing centre than it is now, but the ordinary shareholders would be strange creatures if they were content to go on drawing 50 per cent, while their operatives had such a miserable existence as Mr. Batliwala describes. We cannot believe for a moment that they like it, but if they are dissatisfied it is time they acted.—The "Manchester Guardian" (weekly edition).

BUCKINGHAM MILLS CASE.

MR. WADIA CROSS-EXAMINED.

(Associated Press.)

MADRAS, Nov. 25.

At the High Court to-day further hearing of the Buckingham Mills case was resumed. Mr. Wadia further cross-examined stated that there was no prevention of men apart from the persuasion attempted upon men on lockout. From the time the Lockout Committee was appointed, to that day, they had not done anything except to formulate terms to be accepted. Mr. Chamier did not cross-examine Mr. Kalyansundaram Mudaliar, the second defendant, as he practically adopted the affidavit of Mr. Wadia. Ramanujulu Naidu, the secretary of Madras Labour Union (3rd defendant) was next examined. In his affidavit it was stated that the object of Messrs. Binny and Co. was to break up the formation of a labour union. Witness stated that that was the purport of the resolution of the executive committees of the Union of which he was a member. He agreed with that opinion, but he did not say so in public meetings. Mr. Jobber (4th defendant) was the next witness. At the close of his examination, Mr. C. P. Ramaswami Iyer desired to cross-examine Mr. Symonds and the latter was then put into witness box.

TWO KIDNAPPED SOLDIERS.

RETURNED WITHOUT RANSOM BY AFRIDIS.

(Associated Press.)

PESHAWAR, Nov. 26.

The two British soldiers who were kidnapped some weeks ago from Peshawar were yesterday brought in by a party of Zakka Khel Afridis. Under political pressure the Zakka Khel Jirgah now in Peshawar, sent off a deputation some days ago to effect their release, as an indispensable preliminary to any negotiations. Not a single penny was paid as ransom for the soldiers

Correspondence.

MAHATMA GANDHI AT DHARWAR.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

Mahatma Gandhi arrived here on the 10th of this month at 1-30 p. m. though he was expected here at 10 a. m. He could not come here at the expected time, as he was detained at Halyal and Alnawar on his way from Belgaum. The people of Dharwar were waiting for his Darshan from early in the morning. He was received near the Karnatak Sangha admist great cheers by people of all castes and religions. Mahatmaji and Maulana were garlanded by Mr Karagudri, the Chairman of the Reception Committee, amidst the shouts of Bharatmata-ki-Jai, Karnatakmata-ki-Jai, Gandhi Mahatma-ki-Jai, Allaho-Akbar, etc. He was driven stright to the office of the Chairman, as he complained of much exhaustion. After a very short rest, he addressed the students from 3 to 4 p. m: The result of his advice to the students will be seen very soon. The pleaders also were talked to by Mahatmaji from 4 to 5-15 p m. Mr. Aukalgi, a pleader, who has suspended his practice, was given an interview. At 6 p. m. Mahatmaji was taken to lay the foundation stone of Tilak Goshala, established in memory of that great man Then he was motored through the city where ladies and children were waiting to have a look at him. He was then taken to the place of public meting where more than 13,000 people were anxiously waiting to hear his lecture. In the meanwhile Maulana had finished his prayers at the Soudagar Mosque and had addressed the Mohamedans on the subject of Khilafat. He joined Mahatma at the time of the public lecture which lasted for nearly three-quarters of an hour. The question of Brahmin and non-Brahmin was handled in a very clear and tactful way by Mahatma. and the Brahmins, were advised to withdraw from Councils, Local Boards and Municipal Councils. He thanked the Chairman of the Reception Committee, who read to him a welcome speech in Kanarese. Ladies were appealed to by Mahatmaji to weave, and use their own hand-made cloths. Maulana Shaukat Ali spoke in Urdu. During which time money was collected by the volunteers. Ladies gave their ornaments in aid of the national cause, the instrument that was presented to Mahatma at the Goshala was auctioned for Rs 400 The public of Dharwar presented a purse of Rs 1,175 After the lecture, Mahatma was motored to the library of depressed classes. STUDENTS AND PARENTS.

(TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE.")

Sir,—Don't you fear that the parents of students will rise against you, for encouraging them. in your to-day's article, to form their own judgment at the coming Conference? Being a student non-cooperator, I have tried to persuade others to my creed and found that in almost all cases it is not that they are not convinced of the necessity of non-cooperation but that their conviction is checked by their parents. But, Sir, when they, encouraged to judge for themselves, meet at conference, will not their conviction rise above all petty considerations and goad them to action? Then there would be a clash between their decision and the wishes of their parents who would like their sons to be fat and great, rather than muscular and useful to the nation.

Sir, before such a crisis arises will you not use your influence with the parents and drive home to them the necessity of allowing to their sons sufficient scope of free decision and action?—

Yours etc.,

COOPERATING STUDENTS AND NAGPUR CONFERENCE.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE".

Sir,—In your to-day's appeal to the students of all India you warn us against heated wrangling in case of divergence of opinion But, sir, do you hope that Co-operating students would be coming to the Conference at Nagpur in large numbers to maintain their opinion? Moving among students, my humble opinion has been that very few cooperating students from outside would attend the Conference. For like their elders, in connection with the Special Congress at Calcutta they look upon the conference as specially called to adopt non-cooperation. They also think that it is not for them but for non-cooperators to be up and doing. No doubt, they would like to have Swaraj and they do sympathise with efforts for the attainment of it but they like to stand aloof and promise to join only when they see the efforts advancing clearly towards success. Will they give up this passive attitude and take active part in the Nagpur Conference with the Non-Cooperating students?—Yours, etc.

NON-CO-OPERATION IN BOMBAY.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—I was amused to read a telegram circulated by the Associated Press of India that non-co-operation has not succeeded amongst the students of Bombay to an appreciable extent Tho same allegations have been made by Mrs Besant and Pandit Malaviya.

I might assure these worthies that agitation or withdrawal of students from Government aided institutions has just begun in Bombay and a good number of individual withdrawal and the recent strike of the S. T. High School Students are sufficient proof of the success of our work,

May I request them to wait and see?

Yours etc.,

AN APPEAL TO THE COTTON CONTRACTS BOARD.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE".

Sir,—India ranks second amongst the cotton producing countries of the world. Now, on the one hand, the forward business of the cotton market of Bombay has been at a standstill for the last few months continuously, and on the other, crops of the New Season are coming in, with the result that the vital interests of the country as well as those of the trade are seriously affected thereby. Whether this stoppage of business is due to the mistake or mismanagement of either the Government, the Cotton Contracts Board or the Trade, is a question, as every one of them has got its own reasons to justify its own cause. But, whatever, the truth may be, matters have now come to such a stage that the combined efforts of both the Government and the Cotton Contracts Board, for the welfare of the Trade (I differ here) will either prove totally fruitless or result in a grand success. But this depends only on a single action of the Cotton Contracts Board. It is this: that the Board should either conform to the Resolvtinn of the Trade Meeting held on the 20th November 1920, or reject it. If the Board accepts the Resolution, the business will at once be opened and in addition, this market will in future carry on smooth working, and all the trouble will come to a close. If the Board rejects it, it will create party feeling among the merchants, and under no circumstances, for some years to come, mutual and peaceful work amongst one another can be expected. When ones party feeling is created, it cannot be said how far matters may go, and what terrible results of an evil nature it may lead to, The Chairman of the Trade Meeting of the 20th instant, has already given permission to open business without convening any meeting, provided acceptance of the resolution of the said meeting is made by the Board in relation to two proposals. In accepting these proposals, there is absolutely nothing which is in any way illegal or prejudicial either to the Trade or to the prestige of the Board.

Both the proposals are quite just. The first is to invite all the sections of the Trade, and prepare a scheme for the Trade in future and submit it to the Government for sanction; and the second is that if it is not sanctioned by Government, the members of the Board should express their inability to continue the Control. There is no better way than this in the formation of the new scheme, If it is approved of by the Trade, and disapproved of by the Government, where is the necessity of maintaining control, "for the interests of the Trade?", However, the Government may maintain it.; but the Trade has unanimously and repeatedly said for three years in relation to this control, that it is its determination that it would not work under this control, after the completion of the business of 1920-21 crop; and the members of the Board have already assented to this from the very beginning. What was uptil now discussed was that before deciding the question as to the arrangements to be made after the removal of Government Control. it was no use talking about the removal of the Control. The course to be adopted for that purpose is clear in itself in the resolution of the Trade Meeting.

The question now is whether the Board can do this or not. They would do nothing illegal in preparing a new scheme, chiefly because it is at the instance of the Trade. The Board did prepare a scheme pursuant to the wishes of the Government. Now it must once comply with the wishes of the Trade. As it is not now necessary to maintain control over the cotton crop business of 1921-22, and as it is against the united wishes of the whole of the Trade to do so, it is hoped, the Board would comply with the wishes of the Trade, and write to the Government, while submitting the scheme, that if the Government does not sanction the scheme, the members of the Board would sever their connection with the control over the business of 1921-22 crop. If it is sanctioned by the Government, it means that Government control will have at once to be removed. There is nothing unjust in doing this.

If in spite of this, the Government wishes to maintain control over the cotton crop business o 1921-22 against the wishes of the Trade. it will have to urge upon the Board to resign. But in that case, if the Government asks the Board to resign, while respecting the wishes of the Trade in general, and then intends to select new members for the Board from amongst the trade there will not be even the slightest possibility. as it is not possible for any members of the trade to forgo the advantages of resulting from trade co-operation, and become a member of the Board against the wishes of the Trade It is expected the members of the Board will, under the circumstances, rise to the occasion and nobly acquit themselves of their duty.

Careful attention of the members of the Board is earnestly invited to the fact that this is the last demand of the Trade, and that this will put an end to any bitterness between the Board and the Trade. Moreover, in insisting upon the acceptance of the resolution by the Board, the voice of the Trade in general, including that of the Europeans is one, It is, therefore, earnestly hoped, the Board pay serious attention to this question, and try to accept the resolution as it is; if any modifications are sought to be made therein, there will be a possibility of confusion being made, which it will be difficult to get rid of.

Yours etc.,

NATIONAL SCHOOL AT DELHI

MR. GANDHI ON DISCIPLINE.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

DELHI, Nov. 25.

On the 24th inst. Mahatma Gandhi accompanied by Ali brothers and Abulkalam Azad performed the opening ceremony of the independent national high school, Delhi. The school was packed to overflowing when [illegible]gistered Mahatmaji to although it had been in existence, working for nearly 3 weeks. A boy of the entrance class read an address in which students said they had left aided schools as they were connected with the Government which besides violating promises had suffered Indians to be humiliated in the most revolting manner. They had resolved to have nothing to do with such Government but to seek their own and their country's emancipation.

Mr. Gandhi replying said he was gratified with what he had seen there. He exhorted students to realise the full value of discipline and competence. He laid great stress on the attainment of a higher standard of efficiency and particularly reminded the people of Delhi, especially the founder of the independent school of their heavy responsibility—in undertaking instruction of school children. As a reason for his advocacy of boycotting aided academical institutions he said that uncorrupted youth could easily be persuaded to refrain from walking in the path which led to temptations and ultimate demoralisation and natural degradation. They were aware how difficult it was for those already up in mire to extricate themselves. It , however, easier for students to avoid temptations. He continued to say "I am charged with turning children against their parents; but I do nothing of the sort. I ask parents not to sacrifice their children.

It was announced that the school provided for commercial and industrial training as well. More than 250 students are now attending this school and a staff of competent teachers with Mr. A. B. A. B. T. as provisional headmaster is doing excellent work. The ceremoney was very impresive.

NATIONAL SCHOOL AT CHITTAGONG.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

CHITTGONG, Nov. 19.

The Cittagong Government College, and the Umatra High Jatramohan Institute struck on 19th November. Other schools are soon expected to follow suit. About a thousand strikers paraded the whole town with the shouts of "Bande Mataran," and "Alhaho Akbar" One national school was opened here today with about 200 Non-cooperating students. The opening ceremony inaugurated by Mowlana Moniruzzaman Islamabadi. Great enthusiasm prevails among the masses.

HASTINGS HOUSE SCHOOL TO BE CLOSED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, Nov. 25.

The Bengal Government has issued a communique declaring his Excellency Lord Ronaldshay's decision to close the Hastings House School on the expiry of the current session at the end of December next. This was a residential school for Indian boys on the lines of the English public school, opened on the 2nd of July, 1915, by His Excellency Lord Carmichael. The school has been carried on at an annual deficit, and the number of boarders has gone down from thirty-three to seventeen. The governing body requested the Government to convert it into a day school, but His Excellency could not see his way to accept the request and decided to close the school altogether.

NON-COOPERATION ACTIVITY IN POONA.

PRIVATE COLLEGE TO BE STARTED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

POONA, Nov. 25.

Messrs. Kelkar, Bhopatkar and Paranjpe addressed a large Mahomedan audience in the city and cantonment, Poona, on Monday and Wednesday. The Poona Non-Cooperation Committee has decided to start private college classes from 1st December, providing for higher literary education as well as practical education, including commerce and one selected craft. A large staff of competent lecturers has been appointed, some of these joining the new institution as a matter of self-sacrifice.

Moulvi Mahamad Abdul Sidke of Mirat opened a new National Urdu School for Mahomedans in Nanapeth yesterday, when most of the Hindu and Mahomedan leaders were present. Mr. Moulvi Sahib dwelt at length on the necessity of such schools and exhorted all to practise Non-Cooperation all round. Names of fifty students have been registered on the roll.

MADRAS STUDENTS AND NON-COOPERATION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MADRAS, Nov. 25.

The students of Madras city mostly belonging to the Pachappas Christian and Presidency colleges, held a meeting at Saundarya, to consider the question of Non-cooperation and the boycott of Government and aided educational institutions. Mr. C. Rajagopalachari presided at the meeting. Before discussion on the subject commenced, the president was asked whether he had withdrawn his children from schools and he answered in the affirmative.

Speeches were made for and against non-cooperation and boycott of schools and colleges. The students of the Christian college held the view that instead of boycotting the institutions, the students of respective colleges should approach their principals with a request to refuse grant in aid from the Government.

"THE USURER"

6,000 FEET

A GAUMONT PHOTOPLAY—WONDER!

You know the popularity of Rene Creste. See this Universally loved "JUDEX" in an interesting and beautiful Social Gaumont Picture of To-day! G.Michel gives you an excellent characterization as the miserly old moneylender.

An Interesting Dramatic Story played amidst charming surroundings. —gripping, realistic!

Exposition of the dangers of dealing with Moneylenders —convincing in its exposition of a Social evil.

The Thrilling Story of a Miserly Moneylender's Revenge and a Woman's Happiness! A Startling Society Drama.

The Usurer holds Kings and Empires, Men and Women, Husbands and Wives, the Rich and the Poor, in his evil clutches—yet often, as in this Story, a child outwits his devilish designs,

HOW TWO CHILDREN AVERTED DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

One of the greatest of our social evils is the prevalence of usury and its pernicious influence on thousands of men and women. It is the men who lend money at exorbitant rates of interest who are responsible for many calamities which befall the human race, from wars to the destruction of marital happiness. Kings and peasants, men and women, people of all kinds and in all classes of life, and even nations, fall into the clutches of moneylenders. In "THE USURER," a particularly interesting screen drama, it is shown in most convincing fashion how the disease spreads. In this case the producer has not been ambitious enough to show whole nations falling under the sway of the financier, but he certainly shows how a miserly moneylender would have brought about a domestic tragedy in order to satisfy his own petty spite, had it not been for two children, one of whom overheard the usurer's plans and saw him hide away the key of the safe in which an I.O.U. was kept securely, awaiting the day of reckoning. The two children without hesitation stole the I.O.U., and returne it to the wife who had signed it, and who would have been in a very bad position had her husband discovered her secret dealings with the moneylender. It is an interesting story, well played and with the chief roles in the capable hands of Rene Creste and G. Michel. The photography is perfect, and the settings, to say the least of them, delightfully picturesque.

"THE USURER"

Starring the celebrated Star Mon. RENE CRESTE whom Bombay has known and loved as the never-to-be-forgotten JUDEX! Supported by practically the entire JUDEX Cast!

The smell of Tobacco saved a wife from the consequences of an innocent Sin. She sought refuge with a strange man — and he kept her secret.

COLD-BLOODED MURDER

DEATH SENTENCE CONFIRMED.

Lalji Premji vs. The King-Emperor.

Before the Chief Justice Sir Norman Macleod and Sir Lalubhai Shah.

This was an appeal against the decision of Mr. F. X. De Souza, Sessions Judge of Ahmedabad. The Sessions Judge agreeing with the unanimous verdict of the jury sentenced the accused to death under section 302 of the Indian Penal Code.

The facts are briefly these:—

The deceased Khimji had only four days prevously returned to Ahmedabad from Bhavnagar with his newly married Natra wife Bai Dahi and was living in one of the tenements on the upper story of a house owned by one Fidahussain in Bhandaripole in Kalupur. The adjoining tenement was in the occupancy of the accused. At the time of murder the accused was not residing there, but one Bhagwan with his family was residing there. The deceased and his wife Dahi had retired to rest about 11 p.m. on that night after a game of cards with their friends. The deceased lay down on a bed facing the middle window while his wife slept on a carpet near the southern window. About one o'clock in the morning Dahi was aroused by the thud of her husband's body who came rolling towards her bed. She deposed that she saw the accused in the act of extracting a knife from her husband's throat and raised a cry. The accused made a brutal attempt to silence her, and then ran away through the middle window. The cries of Dahi attracted the neighbours to whom she immediately denounced the accused as the assassin. One Jivraj went to the Civil Hospital to fetch Medical help, but no medical man was available and on his return he found that Khimji had died.

ACCUSED'S DEFENCE.

The accused said that he did not commit the offence. He was not at home on that night. He had gone to sew gunny bags. At about 1 a.m. he heard shouts of Bhagwan of Vanmali, and so he ran from the shop to the scene of the murder. On the gate a police challenged him and asked him where he was going. The accused told to him that he was going to Bhandari Pol. When the accused reached there, he was arrested by the Police.

The Sessions Judge refused to believe the defence and observed that even motive was not satisfactorily established. It did not necessarily follow that the rest of the evidence should be discarded. In view of the cold blooded and cruel nature of the crime he thought that he would be failing in his duty if he did not pass upon the accused the extreme penalty of the law.

Their Lordships after hearing arguments confirmed the conviction and sentence and dismissed the appeal.

Mr. Manilal K. Thakore appeared for the accused; the Government Pleader Mr. S. S. Patker, represented the Crown.

AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK

Standing rabi crops generally suffering for want of sufficient moisture. Cotton crops were slightly damaged by rates in parts of Ahmedabad and West Khandesh. Harvesting of kharif crops and sowing of rabi are in progress. Picking of cotton continues. The supply of fodder was sufficient except in parts of Karachi. Thar Parkar, Broach, Nasik, Poona and Ahmednagar. The supply of water for drinking was sufficient, but that for irrigation was insufficient in Sind and parts of Kaira, Broach, East Khandesh, Nasik, Satara, Bijapur and Dharwar. Agricultural stock was generally in good condition except in Ahmednagar where it is deteriorating. Prices of food-grains were almost stationary. The quantities purchasable per rupee were as follows:—

	percentage below normal
Sind	53 to 69
Gujrat	43 to 83
Konkan	37 to 57
Deccan	54 to 74
Karnatak	58 to 67

Distress increasing in Ahmednagar District. Three test works opened, employing 869 persons. Gratuitous relief given to 1,308 persons.

YOUNG BOKHARANS AND BOLSHEVIKS.

QUARREL OVER LOOT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

ALLAHABAD, Nov. 25.

The "Pioneer" learns that Young Bokharans have begun to discover the real value of Bolshevik friendship. Dissension is reported to have broken out between these worthies and the Bolsheviks over the disposal of spoils of Bokhara, which are in possession of the latter. The Young Bokharans wanted to keep the loot in their own hands, but the Bolsheviks compelled them to hold to argument. Most of the treasure secured was due to the Soviet authorities in payment of the outstanding debts due to them by the Amir's Government which they had overthrown. The manner in which the Soviet Government have ignored Russia's genuine liabilities to other countries, is accentuated by the hypocrisy of their proceedings in this case. It is not of much consolation to the Young Bokharans to be told by their sinister allies, that any surplus remaining after Bolshevik claims have been settled, will be handed over to them later on. Meanwhile, four wagon loads of specie forming part of Bokharan treasure have been sent to Tashkent for despatch to Moscow.

Mr. E. "HEERA" SHOOTING CASE.

RULE AGAINST ACQUITTAL ORDER

ALLEGED ILLEGALITY IN LOWER COURT.

At the Calcutta High Court on Monday afternoon an interesting application was made in what is known as the Khoreal shooting case. Babu Monmotho Nath Mukherjee with Babus Debendra Narain Bhattacharji, Upendra Lal Roy and Santosh Kumar Pal moved on behalf of Gangadhar Goala against an order of Mr. G. D. Walker, Deputy Commissioner of Cachar acquitting Mr. R. W. L. Reed who was charged with attempt at murder and grievous hurt. The vakil said that in this case there had been a great failure of justice. In fact there was no proper trial. The petitioner went up to the Local Government but the Assam Government refused to take further action in the matter on two grounds:—

Mr. Justice Huda.—Who is the accused in the case and what was his offence?

The Vakil:—The Accused was Mr. Reed and he was charged under Sections 326 (Grievous hurt) and 307 (Attempt at murder.)

Continuing the vakil said that there is a garden in Cachar known as Khoreal Tea Garden. The accused came out as an Assistant to this garden in January last. The complainant in this case is one Gangadhar Goala, a garden cooly, living in the cooly lines. He has a wife named Taramani, a son called Nepal and a widowed daughter aged 14 named Hira. The accused wanted Hira, as alleged by the prosecution, to live with him but the girl refused. He then asked his punkha-puller to intercede on his behalf, but it was not successful. On 24th May the punkha puller saw Gangadhar but he indignantly refused the proposal. On the night of 25th May at about 10 p.m. Mr. Reed went to Gangadhar's house armed with a revolver. At that time Gangadhar was not at home, but Taramani Nepal and Hira were there. Mr. Reed called out "Hira, Hira." Nepal came out and told Mr. Reed that Hira was not at home. Mr. Reed next asked Nepal to call Gangadhar. Nepal said Gangadhar was not at home and began to shout. This irritated Mr. Reed as he saw the coolies coming out and he began to shoot. Nepal ran away and he was not hurt. In the meantime Gangadhar came to the spot and received three shots. The coolies who had collected there naturally began to throw stones at Mr. Reed, who safely came back to his bungalow and quietly slept the rest of the night. The next morning information was lodged at the police station by 28 coolies. Gangadhar who was unable to move did not go to the thana. There was a police investigation and the accused was sent up on a charge of grievous hurt.

The Vakil next said that a preliminary judicial enquiry was then held by Mr. Walker, Deputy Commissioner of Cachar. The accused wanted to be tried by a jury and five Europeans, four of them being planters, were empanelled as Jurors. The Vakil did not like to say that the Jurors were dishonest but he said that they did not understand the case.

Mr. Justice Richardson.—Who appeared for the prosecution?

The Vakil:—A well known pleader offered to appeal on behalf of the complainant under the guidance of the public prosecutor, but he was not allowed to appear.

Continuing the Vakil said that 18 witnesses were examined during the preliminary enquiry, but some of the principal witnesses among them were not examined at the trial and their statements were admitted and they were cross-examined. This mode of trial was not sanctioned by the Code. The accused never put forward any definite case for the defence in cross-examination but only cited two witnesses, Mr. Grant the Manager of the Garden and the head-clerk. These two gentlemen were called as witsesses by court as prosecution witnesses. The Manager deposed that on the night of occurrence the accused went out after dinner but he did not say where he was going. The accused came back after some time and told the Manager that he went out to shoot a deer. The accused further told the Manager that he missed his way and went to the coolies lines. There he was fallen upon by a number of coolies and he fired his revolver.

Mr. Justice Richardson.—That would be possible if the coolies suspected him of something. According to him the accused fired the revolver.

The Vakil:—Yes.

Mr. Justice Richardson.—Did the accused make any statement?

The Vakil said that the accused was not asked to make a statement. The only question asked was "Do you want to adduce evidence?" and he said no. One further question was put to the Manager who said that the accused told him that when he went to the cooly lines he asked whether there was a road "here road hai" which the coolies thought "is Hira here." He did not remember whether it was said that very night. After that there was the summing up of the court.

Mr. Justice Richardson.—No speech was made by the Public Prosecutor?

The Vakil:—Apparently not.

Mr. Justice Richardson.—Was the accused represented by any pleader?

The Vakil.—Yes, by a very well known pleader?

Mr. Justice Huda.—Babu Komini Kumar Chanda was the pleader?

The Vakil:—Yes.

Mr. Justice Richardson.—The people responsible for making this appeal, I mean the Local Government, have refused to prefer this appeal. Can you give me any case where an appeal was admitted after the Local Government had refused to prefer the appeal?

The Vakil.—I think I will be able to satisfy your lordship.

Mr Justice Richardson.—You want us to make a precedent in a case where Local Government refused to make an appeal.

The Vakil.—Your lordships have ample powers to interfere even if the Local Government had refused to make an appeal.

Continuing the Vakil said that one of the reasons why the Local Government refused to prefer an appeal was that the High Court was not likely to interfere. The second reason was that it was unlikely that a young Englishman coming fresh from a Christian home would take fancy of a cooly girl.

Mr. Justice Richardson.—Both the prosecution and the defence stories seemed to be impossible.

The Vakil.—The defence story is more than impossible. The accused asked the Jury to believe that he accidentally stepped into the house of Gangadhar the father of Hira for whom he sent his Punkha-cooly.

After reading the charge to the Jury the Vakil said there was not a word about the onus. There had been no proper trial in the case.

Mr. Justice Richardson.—Your argument is that the whole trial is vitiated.

The Vakil.—It is illegality and not irregularity.

Mr. Justice Huda.—There is no provision in law which authorises the court to admit previous statement of witnesses without examining them.

The Vakil.—No. Such statements are used only in cross-examining witsesses.

After reading Nepal's statement the Vakil said that Nepal was going to give a detailed account but he was stopped. The summing up by the Magistrate was not proper. No proper directions were given to the Jury.

Mr. Justice Huda.—The man shot is alive I suppose?

The Vakil.—Yes. He has given evidence in this case.

Mr. Justice Huda.—Was accused's statement recorded as required by law?

The Vakil.—He was only asked "do you want to adduce evidence" and he simply said "No." The accused was never asked to make a statement and it is doubtful whether Mr. Grant's evidence, in the absence of the accused's statement, is admissible. These things were not brought to the notice of the jury.

Their lordships issued a rule on the Deputy Commissioner of Cachar and on the opposite party to show cause why the order of the Deputy Commissioner dated the 7th July last acquitting the opposite party should not be set aside or why a retrial should not be ordered or why such other order should not be passed as to this court seemed fit.—"The A. B. Patrika."

Opinions of the Day.

Persia's "Independence."

The "A. B. Patrika"—Persia is free to decide her own destiny but "always" with the help and assistance of the British! Here again we have the whiteman and his burden! The Persian people are eager to be let down. They are anxious to get rid of the Kalmi but the Kalmi will not get rid of them!

It is amusing how Lord Curzon dilates again and again on the fearful responsibility which the Persians will incur if they choose to discard the proffered assistance of the British. Through his lips indeed he says that it was wholly for the Persians to decide whether they will accept British help or not. But the inward trouble of his soul lest the Persians might choose to do without the British finds expression in the following words:

> "I thought myself that it was rather a pedantic and foolish policy on the part of the Persian Government to deny themselves the enormous advantages of the agreement. (Italics are ous).

Do not the words italicised above indicate the trepidating heart of the seducer that the prey might after all take fright and scamper off?

Roast Beef.

The "I. D. News".—The leaders of the Mahomedans have realised something of the feeling, and the Hindu-Moslem Entente has been cemented by a cessation of cow-killing which is, now we are told, not at all necessary—though a few years ago it was supposed to be a sine qua-non. The late Amir in fact said so years ago, but they said he was not an authority, and knew nothing about it. To-day it is admitted that he was right. So something has been gained. The next step is the cessation of eating beef by Europeans and other meat eating people. The meat of the Mahomedan population is mainly sheep and goat, but the eating of beef is mainly European, and it is being urged that if Europeans gave up eating beef, they would do a great deal towards bringing about friendlier relations with the Indian community. This we are inclined to think is true, and it demands really only a very small sacrifice or self-denial, for a great result.

Coalitions.

The "Madras Times".—Mr. Lloyd George has of late been busy in defending before popular audiences the principle of Coalitions. He is probably well advised to do so, for nothing in politics lends itself more easily to cavil and abuse than a Coalition. As Mr. Lloyd George complains, captious Radicals accuse him of selling himself to the Tories, and equally captious Tories accuse his colleagues of selling themselves to the Radicals. Each is in the other's pocket, a figure to make sane imagination boggle; but political imagination is seldom sane. Apart from these mutual gibes there is supposed to be in Englalnd an historic aversion to Coalitions—a theory fortified, if not entirely originated, by Disraeli's famous speech when the Coalition of Whigs and Peelites turned him out of office in 1853. "Yes! I know what I have to face. I have to face a Coalition. The combination may be successful. A Coalition has before this been successful. But Coalitions, although successful, have always found this that their triumph has been brief. England does not love Coalitions."

Subsidized Newspaper in Burma.

The "Bengalee".—Sir Reginald Craddock's Government has revived the proposal for an official newspaper in Burma at an estimated cost of Rs. 40,000 per annum. It is intended by this device to manufacture public opinion or rather to call it to order and thereby give a wrong turn to the idea of the world about the inner workings of the mind of the province. We ask Sir Reginald Craddock to study the history behind similar experiments in Bengal and elsewhere and to consider why the "Sulabha Samachar," the "Jagat Vrit" and other sheets turned to dismal failure. It will be sheer waste of money if the Burma Government fails to profit by these examples and launches a subsidized newspaper which will not command in any way, the atention of the public. We note with satisfaction therefore, that the members of the Burma education have made a well-reasoned representation to the Secretary of State, strongly protesting against the proposal. To cause public opinion to be reflected through official spectacles is to do a distinct disservice to the cause of journalism. We hope the representation will have due effect upon Mr. Montagu and that he will at once see his way to knock the proposal on the head.

Advice to Students.

The "Leader".—We woulld ask the students who are urged to give up their studies to keep two things prominently in mind, viz., that those who have boycotted the councils can stand for election any day they change their mind. Their boycott is temorary only and involves absolutely no personal sacrifice. The non-cooperating lawyers, few as they are, have only suspended their practice and can resume it any day. They have not returned their sanads, and have not applied for the cancellation of their degrees. A number of them have made their pile and have ample means of maintaining themselves. But the students who leave their schools and colleges will not be free to rejoin them. They may be rusticated for good. Even if they are not, and a locus penitentiae is given to them, they may not be able to obtain admission owing to the chronic congestion in educational institutions. They should therefore think not once, or twice, or thrice, but many times before they decide to give up their studies. It may result in their ruin for life. The married students have additional responsibility in the matter. Their thoughtless action will not only react on themselves but on others near and dear to them for whose maintenance they have assumed a sacred obligation. It is because of our deep concern for the welfare of students and the country that we have been offering restraining counsel and have been taking the risk of being misunderstood. But in spite of temporary unpopularity we cannot refrain from saying what our sense of duty towards them imperatively demands.

INDIAN PROPAGANDA WORK IN AMERICA.

RECOLLECTIONS OF CONVERSATIONS WITH MR. TILAK.

(BY ELIZABETH FREEMAN.)

When I went to England (from America) in 1919, it was my privilege to carry verbal messages from Mr. Lajpat Rai and Dr. Hardiker, to the late Mr. Tilak, who was then in London. In particular, Dr. Hardiker charged me with this message as I was going aboard the boat: "Be sure to tell Mr. Tilak that I have dedicated my life, my all, to the service of India; and in such ways as he may deem wisest and best. I am willing to do anything at any time. He needs only to give the order, and the thing will be done without any hesitation."

Upon reaching London I wrote to Mr. Tilak, and at once received an invitation to call at his residence.

When I delivered the message he was deeply impressed and remarked that he hoped both Lala and Hardiker would remain in America and continue their important activities there. As I went into detail about these he listened keenly and punctuated my remarks with vital questions. He was particularly delighted to learn of the good work Dr. Hardiker was then (in January, 1919) doing in Washington, D. C. with the members of the United States Congress, and expressed a hope that Mr. Lajpat Rai would be able to follow it up with his large experience and ripe knowledge.

The news of Hardiker's and Lala's lecture trips through certain parts of America, and of the extensive work which Dr. J. T. Sunderland has long been doing in various parts of the United States and Canada, by speaking and writing in condemnation of British tyranny in India and in advocacy of justice and freedom for the Indian people, filled Mr. Tilak with delight. "Oh how I wish," he said, "that such work as has been carried on by these men could be done all over the world! We Hindus must learn the art of foreign propaganda, and do it as thoroughly as the bureaucracy are doing it. When you write to Lala and Hardiker tell them I want the work carried as far as possible."

WANTED MORE WORKERS AND MORE MONEY.

When he asked for details of the methods which had been found most successful in America in attracting people to the cause of India, I gave particulars as fully as possible of what had been done in the past, and also pointed out certain important ways in which the work could be enlarged in the future if only there were more workers and especially if there were more adequate financial support.

"I understand," said Mr. Tilak, "that in America you always want something new." "Yes we do," I replied, "but India is so large and rich a subject, and there is so much calculated to interest intelligent minds in the story of her long past, in her high civilization, in the great place that she has filled in the world, and in her present just struggle for freedom, that it is not difficult to attract and hold the attention of American audiences when the subject of India is properly presented. Of course a dull or ignorant speaker on India cannot interest us. But when the subject of India, and especially her right to be free, is presented by a man possessing knowledge and ability like Mr. Lajpat Rai, for example, the subject never fails to win the interest and sympathy of audience in all parts of America."

I was greatly embarrassed when Mr. Tilak, speaking of "the good work for India" done in America, thanked me for my small contribution to it. "My dear young lady," he said, "India's cause would be better understood if more women like you would take an interest in it. Will you not consider an invitation to come to India and educate our women?" I was overjoyed and thanked him, but pointed out that the difficulty of language was a serious one, and that the need outside of India was so great that it was necessary for all of us to work just where we were located, and make at least our immediate friends understand the truth about the aims and objects of the Indian people.

NEED FOR FOREIGN PROPAGANDA.

On two occasions, in speeches which I heard from him, he referred to the need of foreign propaganda, and spoke with warm approval of the good work being done in both America and England.

As I have already intimated, he often expressed a hope that Lajpat Rai would remain in America, because of his great success there. Also he spoke of the difficulty of finding another man to fill his place in case he should return to India. "Perhaps this young man, Hardiker, will grow to it," he said, "if he is willing to give his life to the work. He has just the spirit that we need in the movement."

There is no doubt that Mr. Tilak firmly believed that India's needs must be brought to the attention of the whole world; and he promised that upon his return to India, if life was spared to him, he would raise money not only to continue the work already begun in America, but to carry on the work in new lines.

ADDENDUM BY DR. SUNDERLAND.

May I be permitted to say that I am glad Miss Freeman has written the above recollections of her conversations with Mr. Tilak when he was in England. It encourages us to know how deeply he was interested in Indian propaganda in America. The high appreciation which he expressed of the work done here by Mr. Lajpat Rai, by Dr. Hardiker and by Miss Freeman herself, was certainly just and merited. If he were speaking to-day, with knowledge of present conditions and of the work that has been carried on here since January, 1919, I am sure he would mention with appreciation and gratitude other persons also, especially Mr. D. S V. Rao, a member of the Council of the India Home Rule League of America and General Business Manager of our monthly magazine, "Young India," and Miss Miller, also a member of the Council of the League and Assistant Editor of "Young India." Without the efficient and self-sacrificing labor of these two devoted workers in the Indian cause, it would have been impossible during the past two years to publish the magazine, to maintain in our Indian Headquarters Office in New York, at 1,400 Broadway (an absolute necessity if the cause of India in this country is to be efficiently served), or to carry on the many important activities of the League.

Mr. Tilak was quite right in feeling not only that the activities in behalf of India, which have been carried on in the past, should be maintained, but that new and larger activities ought to be undertaken.

GREAT FIELD FOR WORK.

Certainly the field here is great. If an intelligent and strong national public sentiment can be created in this country in favor of India's freedom, it will have a powerful influence in England, for the British people are more anxious to stand well with America than with any other nation; they are more influenced by general public opinion here than by public opinion in any other country. This they show in many ways.

Still further, if wide-spread and strong sympathy can be created in America for India in her struggle for self rule, I am sure it will do much to encourage and hearten the Indian people. This is not an unimportant matter. Nations as well as individual men that have a hard battle to fight are greatly strengthened by knowing that they have the sympathy, the approval and the moral support of others whom they respect. India can win America's sympathy and moral support if she will. But it cannot be done without intelligent, strong and persistent effort.

It may well be pointed out in this connection that New York is not only the most important centre for Indian propaganda in America, but it is the most important centre, with the possible exception of London, for Indian propaganda throughout the world. As a fact, the India office here, through its correspondence, through "Young India," and through its other literature sent out, is in touch not only with all parts of North America, but with many of the countries of Central and South America, with East and South Africa, with the Fiji Islands, &c.: "Young India" has readers in all, and it endeavours to report conditions in all and to help the cause of the Indian residents in all.

Miss Freeman was right in pointing out to Mr. Tilak that our great need, if the work here is to be enlarged, or even maintained at its present strength, is funds. We are raising what we can in this country, but it is not enough. After Mr. Tilak's return to India from England he sent us generous financial help. This would have been continued if he had lived. Will it be continued now that he is gone?

Let me say in closing, that the India Home Rule League here desires to keep in closest possible touch with the Indian National Congress. It will be glad if the Congress feels like making it in some sense its recognised representative in America. This matter has been already laid before some of the officials of the Congress. It is to be hoped that at the next meeting of the body at Nagpur the subject may be considered and some decision reached.

J. T. SUNDERLAND,
President of the India Home Rule League of America and Editor of "Young India."

Lok. Tilak's Marble Busts
MADE TO ORDER.

Tilak Memorial Committees wishing to have a genuine bust or statue of him are requested to ask from Mr. Wagh photographs of the same lest they be misled. Lok. gave Mr. Wagh special sittings and on approval of the model placed an order for a marble bust with him.
Lok.'s son says the bust is better than any he saw until now. He and Mrs. Besant write "the bust is a speaking likeness of Lokamanya."
Lokamanya's marble and bronze busts and statues of large and small sizes are also being executed by Mr. Wagh.

A CONFERENCE ON INDIA.

BRITAIN'S MESSAGE OF GOOD WILL.

SOCIAL GATHERING AND THEATRICAL PERFORMANCES.

Miss Josephine Ransom, Hon. Secretary of the Britain and India Association sends us the following interesting account of a conference on India in which forty-seven public organization sent delegates:—

For the past three months the Britain and India Association has given all its time and attention to preparing for the Conference to take place on 30th October. The crowded, appreciative and interested audience that filled Mortimer Hall both afternoon and evening was ample reward for all the hard work the Conference entailed, especially to the Assistant Secretary Mrs. Stevenson Howell, who has a veritable genius for organisation thus ensuring the success of the meetings.

The call for support for the afternoon meeting was cordially responded to and about 50 organisations sent representatives to show their interest in India. The full set of names of the organisations is as follows:—

By 2.30 p.m. the Hall was crowded to its utmost capacity and even standing room was fully utilised. At the last moment Mr. Ernest Rhys had advised us that illness in his house would prevent him from taking the chair, and upon appealing to him Major H. Barnes, M.P. at once consented to preside. He is a splendid chairman and always ready to help India.

Mr. C. Jinarajadasa's speech was a stirring, delightful and convincing exposition of the "Value of the Indian Temperament to Civilisation" and he, in his charming and poetical way revealed some of those precious values. Very rightly, the Chairman referred to him as the "philosopher" among the speakers.

Next came Mr. Yusuf Ali, who took "Educational Ideals in India" as his subject. Mr. Yusuf Ali too is a fine and cultured speaker who laid before his attentive audience the ideals he sees should permeate Indian Education.

Then Miss Minakshi Devi gave a brilliant speech full of wit and fire. Owing to throat trouble her voice did not carry far enough to enable all in the Hall to hear her, but those who did were charmed. Then followed a lively discussion, and a few pointed and relevant remarks by the chairman who had all along contributed greatly to the spiritedness of the meeting.

The Hon. Secretary then asked the meeting if it would endorse a telegram of goodwill to be sent to the Indian people through the Indian Press. The telegram ran.

"That this Conference on India supported by 47 Organisations held on October 30th, London sends goodwill to India") and was unanimously endorsed by the "great meeting" as the Chairman truly described it. Then enthusiastic thanks were offered to the speakers and the Chairman and the meeting closed. A spirit of warmth and sympathy pervaded it throughout the whole of its sitting from 2-30 — 5-15 p.m.

A SOCIAL GATHERING.

The evening was intended to be a "Social Gathering" with items of music etc. at intervals. However, three days beforehand the tickets were fully sold out and we realised that it would have to partake of the nature of an entertainment and not of a Conversazione. The Hall was packed as tightly as it could hold and more, and numbers of people were turned away. Miss Helen Young is a rising young violinist who played British Compositions and is always able to rouse a keen response to her splendid playing, and the audience gave her the applause she richly deserved. Miss V. Drummond (Radha Rani) and Miss Beatrice Richmond (Krishna Rani) gave Indian Dances that interested everyone and Miss. Drumond was recalled to relate yet another folk tale. Mrs. Alice Coomara's beautiful voice rang out in slow melody in the British folk songs she rendered, but was full of magnetic attraction when she sang a series of Indian folk songs. She created a truly exquisite Indian atmosphere of silence and mystery as she sat thrumming the reconant tambura in the subduced light. Then her voice rose and fell in rich cadence and far away India was instantly, vitally and sensitively with us.

Then followed the little romantic Comedy —"The Maharani of Arakan," by Tagore. The caste was filled as follows:—

Amina (a Mogul Princess), Miss R. C. Banerjee.
Roshenara (her sister), Miss. E. Clow.
Dalia (The King of Arakan), J. K. De.
Tung Loo, Tapanmohan Chatterji.
Rahmat Sheikh (A Mogul Officer), Himansunath Ray.

and each and all played well and kept the audience fully alive to every point of wit, fun, pathos, tragedy or romance and received a fine coration to their efforts.

Each one of the artistes who made the evening so great a success gave their services voluntarily—for love of India. The presence of the crowded audiences the ready response of the organisations to participate in the afternoon meeting, the eager interest in the evening performance showed us that the British public is after all interested in the true India—her culture and her tradition. It is true that Indian politics may leave ordinary British people cold, but politics change as well we know with every year. The real India is her art, literature, music, and every great tradition that has moulded her long and tenacious life and in this we are discovering the people here are exceedingly interested and want to understand it.

Further proof of this was the constant stream of people who pressed into the room where Thakur J. Seesodia had arranged his loan of perfect treasurers of India art in pictures, metals, wood-carving and fabrics.

Altogether the Britain and India Association feels that the meeting gave expression to the steadily though slowly rising tide of genuine desire to know, love and therefore appreciate the great Indian across the seas.

JOSEPHINE RANSOM,
Hon. Secretary.
Britain and India Association.
